FEW COUNTRIES IN EUROPE FREE FROM DOMESTIC STRIFE

Spain, Switzerland, Holland and Scandinavian Countries Stand Alone.

OTHERS BELLIGERENTS

Interest in Military Operations Divided Between Three Battles.

London, May 15.—With the outbreak of a revolution in Portugal, which, according to dispatches from Madrid, is supported by the navy, Spain, Switzerland, Holland and the Scandinavian countries are the only states in Europe which are not either engaged in war or have domestic troubles to occupy their attention.

Little news has come through from Lisbon, but it is reported that the navy had bombarded the capital, held by the army which remains loyal to the president, Manuel De Arriaga. It is not known whether the insurrection was started by the Royalists, but members of that party resident in London disclaim all knowledge of it. Late reports tonight say the revolution has been crushed, but there is no confirmation of this.

Greece, Bulgaria and Rumania where there are pro-war and anti-war parties are waiting for the final decision of Italy as to whether she will join the Allies—a decision delayed by the resignation of Premier Salandra, who, however, is reported from Rome to be back in office. The prediction is made that Salandra will form a new government with the support of the leaders of the stronger parties in the chamber.

Interest is Divided.

Among the belligerents interest wavers between battles in Galicia, Flanders and Pas de Calais and operations in the Dardanelles.

In Galicia the Austro-German rush seemed to have exhausted itself when the river San was reached and all the towns on the west bank of that river fell into German hands. This compelled the Russians to fall back in Southern Poland, so that their line now runs from Plock, on the lower Vistula, southeastward to Przemysl, thence south and east through Eastern Galicia and Bukowina to the Rumanian border.

At the latter end of this line, the Russians still are pursuing their offensive and have driven the Austrians back in disorder for some 20 miles, but they themselves are being forced out of the Carpathians and are in danger of losing Przemysl as the Austrians and Germans are to the north and south of that city.

The British appear to have resisted successfully all German attacks on Ypres, while the Belgians have continued their attacks from the sea to Dixmude, and the French have made further headway north of Arras. It would appear from today's French official statement that the offensive in this part of Pas de Calais was not intended as the commencement of the big general movement, but merely was an operation, completely successful, to rectify the French front, in which Carency formed threatening salient.

AGAIN BEFORE PRZEMYSL

Austrian Official Communication Says Russians Still Retreating.

Vienna, (via London), May 15.—The following official statement was issued by the war office today:

"The Russian armies in Poland and Galicia continue to retreat along the whole front. From Nowemiasto on the Pilica river to south of the Dniester in the district of Dolina the allied armies are advancing:

"On the San river our troops have captured Rudnik and Lezaysk. The Germans have occupied Jarostau.

"In Middle Galicia, the Austro-Hungarian Tenth army corps is standing before the gates of its native town—Przemysl. Further south, Dobromil, Stary Sambor and Borysian are again in our hands. The allied army under General Von Linsingen has reached the heights southwest of Dolina.

"On the Pruth line the Russians are still attacking. In severe fighting in the north of Kolomea infantry from Carinthia and Styria have repulsed all Russian attacks."

SITUATION MORE SERIOUS.

Matters at Milan Reach a Crisis—General Strike Called There.

Milan, Italy, via Paris, May 15.—The situation here has become still more serious, owing to the general strike proclaimed in Milan as a protest against the trend of political events in Italy. The military authorities have centered here troops from neighboring garrisons and have sufficient forces to check any serious movement. The royal palace, the prefecture and the German and Austrian consulates are guarded.

Much apprehension is felt concerning the coming of the funeral of a workman named Gadda, a youth of 17, who died from wounds sustained during a riot.

New York, May 15.—President Wilson on board the naval yacht Mayflower, was progressing slowly toward New York tonight on his trip from Washington. Secretary Daniels reached here late today from the capital, immediately boarded the government yacht Dolphin and got in touch by wireless with the Mayflower, which he found had nothing but steady, if slow, progress to report.

OFFICIALS BRING COUNTER CHARGES

Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams Answer.

RIGGS NATIONAL BANK

Treasury Officials in Lengthy Affidavits Enter Sweeping Denials of Charges Brought by Washington Institution.

Washington, May 15.—Specific denial of charges of conspiracy and malice against the Riggs National Bank of this city was made by Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams of the Treasury Department today in affidavits filed in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in reply to injunction proceedings brought by the bank in which it was alleged the treasury officials had conspired to wreck the bank.

"I specifically deny the charges of having conspired or combined with the defendant Williams or any one else to injure the plaintiff or its business," Mr. McAdoo declares.

"I have not conspired in any way to injure or ruin the plaintiff bank or its business and it is not and never has been my purpose to inflict injury upon the plaintiff bank," Mr. Williams asserts.

"All of my actions have been in the performance of my duties in the premises and in the exercise of my honest judgment and discretion and without malice, ill will or bias against the plaintiff bank or its officers."

McAdoo Brings Charges.

At another point in his affidavit Mr. McAdoo says:

"I charge and aver the fact to be that my inclusion in the suit is due to ulterior and improper motives and was resorted to solely for the purpose thereby of uttering and publishing grossly false and libelous statements under the privilege and protection of judicial forms and free from the legal accountability that would otherwise be involved."

Filing of the affidavits was taken to indicate that there was no present intention to compromise the case. The government's brief will be filed Monday when oral argument will be heard on pending motions to dismiss the bank's suit on a plea of lack of jurisdiction and for other reasons.

Both affidavits recite alleged facts ascertained by the comptroller's investigation of the bank which are said to show violations of the National Bank Act and "improper practices." Both bring into the case the name of the National City Bank of New York in an effort to show that hostility which is declared to have been exhibited by the Riggs bank toward the treasury officials might have resulted from occurrences at the department in which the New York bank figured after Mr. McAdoo took office.

Secretary McAdoo declares he knows of only two incidents which may have caused personal hostility toward him by the bank. One was his order denying desk room in the comptroller's office to a woman who, his affidavit says, made certain reports on the condition of National banks to the Riggs National and the National City Bank of New York. The other reason his affidavit sets forth was his right to charge National banks which carry government money 2 per cent interest on such deposits. At that time he says, the National City had $400,000 of such funds, the Riggs $100,000 and the National City refusing to pay such interest, surrendered its account.

Knew Nothing of Penalties.

Mr. McAdoo declares that he was confined to his bed after an operation until after the beginning of the suit and that he knew nothing of the imposition of penalties against the bank or a refusal to approve it as a depositary for the reserves of National banks until after the action had been taken. On one occasion, however, the secretary said when Mr. Williams suggested the employment of counsel to advise him of his rights in trying to learn the condition of the bank, Williams informed him of his power under the law to impose penalties for persistent refusal to comply with demands. He addressed Mr. Williams, Mr. McAdoo said, to use his discretion in enforcing the right of the government to obtain information to which it was entitled. Of the bank's complaint that certain government deposits were withdrawn that the bank was not permited to receive deposits from other National banks and the numerous special reports were called for under penalty of fines. Mr. McAdoo asserted that he withdrew government funds from the bank because he believed they should go t oa bank doing a larger commercial business and because of the comptrollers' report of the bank's condition.

Summing up his investigation of the bank, Comptroller Williams asserted that he had learned the bank was lending its money on real estate and also was lending on commission the money of others on such security and that it had conducted a stock brokerage business and had bought and sold securities both for itself and on commission for others.

This stock brokerage business, Mr. Williams said, had been carried on at first in the name of the bank and afterwards in the name of a firm composed of stockholders of the bank; but later the business was carried on in the name of the bank and finally in the name of the officers of the bank, but except during the existence of the firm all profits except some specified went to the bank itself. The plan of doing business in the name of the officers, Mr. Williams said, was a mere device to evade the law. In using its funds to lend to real estate, Mr. Williams said the bank required subordinate employes to give personal notes to the bank, the officers furnishing collateral.

Violated the Law.

In many ways, Mr. Williams asserted

SPECIAL MEMORIAL EXERCISES TODAY

Baptist Convention at Houston Adjourns Tomorrow.

YESTERDAY'S BUSINESS

Rev. J. F. Love, of Richmond, Elected Corresponding Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board at Last Session.

Houston, Texas, May 15.—Rev. J. F. Love, of Richmond, Va., tonight was elected by the Southern Baptist Convention in session here corresponding secretary of the Baptist foreign mission board. Mr. Love succeeds Dr. R. J. Willingham, of Richmond, deceased. Rev. J. B. Hutson, of Richmond, president of the foreign mission board, and the presidents and corresponding secretaries of the other four boards were re-elected.

Heretofore each of the boards elected its own officers but a change in the by-laws adopted at the present convention provided for the election of the principal officers of the convention.

Secretaries other than corresponding secretaries of the several boards are to be chosen later by the boards. Dr. Willingham also held the title of general secretary of the foreign mission board. This office was abolished.

Officers re-elected include Rev. John F. Purser, Atlanta, Ga., president, and Dr. B. D. Gray, Atlanta, corresponding secretary, of the home mission board, and E. E. Folk, Nashville, Tenn., president, and Rev. J. M. Frost, Nashville, corresponding secretary of the Sunday school board.

Inspirational exercises and debate on committee recommendations which proposed that strictly Baptist classes rather than classes of interdenominational affiliations be fostered in the Sunday schools occupied the greater part of today and tonight's sessions of the convention. The committee report particularly opposed the Baraca and Philathea movement. A special order of business interrupted consideration of the recommendation before final action was taken.

The report of the nominating committee, presented late today, was returned to the committee on a technicality when opposition to some of the committee selections developed. The report of the executive committee on Baptist Young People's work was formally adopted.

Rev. J. G. Chastain, of Durango, Mex., a speaker at tonight's inspirational meeting, declared that the preaching of the gospel by missionaries of the Protestant churches was indirectly one of the causes of the present revolution in Mexico.

"The Gospel gave the people of Mexico a knowledge of their individual rights," he said.

Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, of Raleigh, N. C., president, and all other officers of the Woman's Missionary Union, were re-elected today. The other officers are:

Miss Kathleen Mallory, Baltimore, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. C. Johnson, Warren, Pa., recording secretary; Mrs. H. M. Wharton, Baltimore, assistant recording secretary, and Mrs. W. C. Lowndes, Baltimore, treasurer.

Special memorial exercises will be held tomorrow and the convention will close Monday.

SALANDRA TO HOLD THE PREMIERSHIP

Has Consented to Remain at Head of Italian Government

QUIET IS RESTORED

Decided to Retain Premiership After Two Former Members of His Cabinet Had Refused to Organize New Cabinet.

Rome, (via Paris), May 15.—Antonio Salandra has consented to retain the premiership.

As the news spread that Salandra would remain in power, a sudden change came over the people. As if obeying some secret sign, the populace calmed down and all troops were withdrawn. The infuriated mobs of yesterday seemed to disappear and peaceful crowds tonight passed the Austrian embassy without even noticing it.

King Emmanuel persuaded Signor Salandra to retain the premiership after E. Marcora, president of the chamber of deputies, and Paolo Carcano, formerly minister of the treasury, in the Salandra cabinet, had declined commissions to form a new cabinet. Signor Marcora had set about the task requested by the king and was reported as making progress when he suddenly refused the commission.

PORTUGAL SEETHES WITH REVOLUTION

President Disappears — Former Premier Assassinated

OUTBREAK IS CRUSHED

Dispatches Late Last Night Declare Revolt Under Control—Lisbon Bombarded by Mutinous Warships—Heavy Damage.

London, May 16.—A wireless dispatch from Lisbon received by the Fabre Agency at Madrid at 11:40 last night says the insurrection has been crushed.

Capt. Martins Lima has assumed command of the Republican troops. There are rumors at Madrid, the dispatch adds, that the leave of Spanish naval officers has been suspended, and that the battleships Espana and Carlos Quinto have been ordered to Lisbon. It is also stated that two regiments of infantry have been sent to Badajose, Spain, on the frontier.

GRAVE SITUATION APPEARS.

News Dispatches Reaching Madrid Tell of Conditions in Portugal.

London, May 15.—A news agency dispatch from Madrid declares there has been received in the Spanish capital information of a grave revolutionary movement in Portugal.' One report is that a revolutionary committee is in control of the situation at Lisbon. A dispatch from Madrid to Reuters says it is reported there that Dr. Alfonso Costa, former premier of Portugal, has been assassinated in Lisbon.

A rebel naval squadron has bombarded the city of Lisbon from the river Tagus, according to advices from Madrid, received by the Fabra agency.

Advices reaching the Spanish capital from Lisbon sets forth that the commander of the Portuguese cruiser G. Vasco Da Gama, has been murdered.

The army garrisoning Lisbon is remaining loyal to President Arriaga.

Rebellion also is said to have broken out at Ciombra, Oporto and Santarem.

Fugitives reaching Badajosa describe the situation as extremely menacing. Telegraph and telephone communication has been severad and the troops appear to be powerless.

The Fabra News Agency, from whose agent this dispatch comes, gives it out under reserve, but says it believes the information probably is correct.

Dr. Costa is a leader of the Democratic party in Portugal. In addition to having been premier, he has served as minister of finance and minister of justice. He has been described as an uncompromising advocate of armed revolution and several times he has been sent into exile. Three attempts to assassinate Dr. Costa have been made since July, 1913.

REVOLT PURELY REPUBLICAN.

Reuter's Correspondent Tells of the Beginning of the Revolution.

London, May 15.—Reuter's Lisbon correspondent in a dispatch dated Saturday says it is announced that the revolutionary movement in Portugal is exclusively Republican. Its object is to defend and consolidate the republic by the formation of a new ministry of the states. The revolutionary committee met aboard the battleship Vasco Da Gama to select a new government.

War News at a Glance

Germany's reply to the United States and Italy's decision remain the matters of paramount interest in the war.

Ambassador Gerard has presented the American note to the German foreign minister at Berlin and, while a reply is not expected for several days, it is reported in Washington that high officials are confident passenger vessels will not be subjected to submarine attack in the interim.

Premier Salandra, whose resignation with his entire cabinet caused a great outburst in Italy, according to the latest advices has returned to power. King Victor Emmanuel previously had asked him to withdraw his resignation "for the good of the country," but finding the former premier obdurate, attempted to have other statesmen reconstruct the ministry. This failing, Salandra consented again to take up the duties of his office.

It is probable, therefore, that the ministry to be formed with the aid of the leaders of the stronger parties will not be long in taking a decisive stand. The cry of the people has been for war and the Salandra cabinet was opposed by ex-Premier Giolitti and others who favored peace.

In Portugal a serious uprising has occurred in which the navy shelled Lisbon. The Portuguese army remained loyal to the government and a late wireless dispatch from Lisbon says the insurrection has been crushed.

The revolutionists, in making public their attitude, said they desired to rid the country of a dictatorial government and to establish in the presidency the ex-premier, Alfonso Costa. One report had it that Costa had been assassinated, but this was not confirmed. Another report said that Premier Manuel de Arriaga has disappeared from Lisbon.

Fighting in Belgium and France continues without let-up.

In the East, the most interesting struggle is going on near Przemysl in front of which is the 10th army corps of the Austro-German army. All efforts are to be put forth to retrieve the defeat of the fortress' former defenders.

The advance of strong Russian forces near Shavli has been brought to a standstill, according to the Berlin official statement. The Teutonic allies still are pursuing the Russians in the region south of the Pilica river, as far as the Vistula.

MARINES TO LAND TO AID AMERICANS

MURDER IS CONFIRMED

State Department Advices Confirm Reports of Killing of Americans —Many Others Are in Danger, Says Bryan.

Washington, May 15.—American marines will be landed at Guaymas and sent to aid Americans threatened by Yaqui Indian outbreaks, if the commanders of warships sent to the Mexican port believe it necessary. After a conference today with Secretary Bryan, Rear Admiral Benson, acting Secretary of the Navy, said:

"We hope Americans will make their way to the coast and be taken aboard, but if it is necessary to send out landing parties, Commander T. C. Magruder, of the Raleigh, is authorized to take that action."

The Raleigh and New Orleans have been ordered to Guaymas.

Reports Are Confirmed.

State Department advices from Hermosillo today confirmed the reported killing of J. J. Donovan, W. A. Fay and Jack Wilson and the wounding of Zoe Stocker, all Americans in the recent outbreak in the Yaqui Valley. Secretary Bryan said information from several sources showed all Americans in the valley to be in danger. The department, he said, was making every effort to reach them and get them out of danger zone. Commander Howard commanding the Pacific fleet, notified the department late in the day that the Yaqui and the Mexicans still were fighting. Regular Mexican troops, he said, had refused to advance against the Indians. The latest fighting was reported at Ures east of Hermosillo.

Governor Maytorena reported to the Villa agency from Nogales the capture of Alamoa in southern Sonora on May 12 after seven hours fighting.

Advices dated May 13 from Tampico said Villa troops were again attacking Panuco and had cut river communications between Tampico and Panuco.

INDIANS ON RAID

Mexican Soldiers Refuse to Fight Indians—Property Damaged.

Douglas, Ariz., May 15.—Several thousand Yaquis are raiding inland towns of Sonora, according to information received here. Property of Americans everywhere in Yaqui territory except at Guaymas, Cananea, El Tigre and Esperanza, has been destroyed, it is said, and their livestock driven off.

Tonichi, Pesqueira, Navajoa, Cocori, La Colorado, Sab Marcial, Rosario, and other towns, have been raided.

STUDENTS IN DEMONSTRATION.

Police Unable to Do Anything With Two Thousand Students at Naples.

Naples, via Paris, May 15. — Two thousand students made a demonstration today in favor of war. The police tried to disperse them, and several on both sides were wounded.

New York, May 15.—Another American liner, the St. Louis, said for Liverpool today with cabins nearly filled. There were 715 passengers in all, 365 of whom were in the cabins.

NOTE IS PRESENTED TO HERR VON JAGOW

Germany Will Agree to Arbitration, Say Press

MANY PLANS OFFERED

Only Objection to Arbitration is That Most of the Powers Needed to Form the Court Are Belligerents.

Washington, May 15.—Word that Ambassador Gerard had read and presented to Herr von Jagow, minister for foreign affairs of the imperial German government ,the American note sent Thursday as a consequence of the Lusitania tragedy and other occurrences in the war zone, removed all anxiety here over the delay in transmission and awakened intense interest in the nature of Germany's reply.

In view of telegraphic and cable delays and the probable necessity for conferences between the foreign minister and the imperial chancellor, Von Bethmann-Hollweg, and doubtless Emperor William himself, it would not be considered surprising here if the response did not arrive for another eight days. It was believed possible, however, that Ambassador Gerard might report earlier on the manner the American note was received by the government and the sentiment of the press.

In the interim confidence prevails among high officials and is shared in German official quarters that there will be no submarine attacks on passenger vessels while the questions at issue are being resolved.

Willing to Arbitrate.

"OUR NAVY IS GOOD" DECLARES DANIELS

At a Dinner Given Officers of the Atlantic Fleet.

PROMISES LARGE NAVY

Review Not the Ending of a Century of Work But the Beginning of a New Era in the History of American Fleet.

New York, May 15.—Officers of the Atlantic fleet gathered here tonight at a dinner in their honor heard Secretary Josephus Daniels defend the navy as efficient and prepared for war and promise that the administration, with the support of the American people, would make it more powerful and more efficient. Mr. Daniels answered the navy's critics, particularly the National Security League, which recently made public an open letter declaring that investigation disclosed that the navy was inadequate and unprepared for war.

"With the praise of a great city ringing in our ears," said the Secretary, "with our mighty ships in all their splendid strength lying just outside, in this hour of natural and pardonable exultation in our great navy, as the head of that navy I feel it right to utter a word of warning 'lest we forget' to those who may feel inclined to rest too secure on this visible and outward display of our strength, and at the same time to speak a word of promise and cheer to those who, perhaps, have looked too despondently upon the task that still lies before us in our efforts to reach as near as possible to perfection.

"Our Navy is Good."

"Our navy is good; it is not good enough. With your help, as long as I am Secretary of the Navy, we will all try to make it better. The navy is strong; it is not strong enough. With the help of the whole American people, with the help of a Congress and an administration thoroughly committed to the policy of 'taking leave to be strong on the seas' we will make it strong. This review is not the end of a century's labors. We do not here exhibit our completed work. Rather, we here begin a new era, supported by the chief executive and by an enlightened and progressive Congress, which gave evidence of its faith in a strong navy by the passage of the best navy bill in the history of your country.

"We are entering upon an era of progress such as the navy has never known before, whose keynote will be onward and whose watchword will be forward—an era marked by the lifting of our navy out of politics and by the subordination of all things afloat or ashore to the efficiency of the fleet, in order that by our very strength we might be able to demand the right to live at peace with all the world.

"You have seen—and lately you have heard—far too much of the petrified pessimists who visit one of our leviathans of power with a sour and disappointed visage, looking for something upon which he can hang a tale of woe and wail a Jereciad.

Critics Are Ignorant.

"The navy and its head have been a target o fmuch criticism of late, some from those honest in their belief, but sadly ignorant or misinformed and much from purely partisans and political sources which had no interest in facts whatever. As for such criticisms as concerned myself, I have kept silent. Time must justify, or time condemn.

"The splendid condition of the ships for which you are responsible, the splendid discipline of the crews which you have established, make today a far better answer than anything I could have been able to say. As they ride tonight at their anchors on the river let them stand as their own spokesmen, and I rejoice that it is my pleasure to greet here tonight the commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, Admiral Fletcher.

"A few days ago a new organization, bearing the name of the National Security League, published an open letter exposing the result of investigations and gave to the world this statement:

"'Investigation discloses, it is asserted, that the navy is neither adequate nor prepared for war; that it is inadequately manned, is short of ammunition and has no organized reserve of trained men; that the submarine flotilla exists chiefly on paper; that fast scout cruisers, battle cruisers, aeroplanes, mine layers, supply ships and transports are lacking, and that target practice has been neglected or altogether omitted.'

"If the gentlemen who signed the above libel of the navy had known the real truth their signatures would never have been appended. If they had not been misled and misinformed, they would have written instead:

"'Investigation discloses that the navy is efficient and prepared for war; that our ships are well manned; that the supply of munitions is vastly larger than ever before, and the capacity of our plants has been practically doubled; that the last Congress authorized a naval reserve which is in process of organization; that we have 74 submarines authorized, built or building which are the equal of those of any other country, and that one flotilla of submarines has experienced a long distance run; that we recognize the need for more fast light cruisers; that we have lately ordered eight aeroplanes and a dirigible out of $1,000,000 specially appropriated by the last Congress for aviation; that within the last two years the navy's mine equipment has been more than doubled; that we are adding yearly to our force of auxiliaries; while more time has been devoted this year to target practice and maneuvers than in many years past. We are proud of our navy as it is. We are resolved to give our co-operation in making it better and greater'."

DR. DERNBURG WILL LIFT ANCHOR SOON

Unwelcome Guest Decides to Return to the Fatherland.

EMPEROR'S MOUTHPIECE

Unofficial Representative of the German Ruler in This Country Relieves Embarrassing Situation by Decision.

Washington, May 15.—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former German colonial secretary and known as unofficial spokesman in this country for the German cause, has voluntarily decided to leave the United States in view of the critical turn in the relations between this country and Germany.

This became known early today in official quarters and was later confirmed at the German embassy. President Wilson and Secretary Bryan had been appraised informally through Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador, of Dr. Dernburg's decision before the news was generally known in official circles.

The action of Dr. Dernburg relieved the President of an embarrassing situation for it is understood that he strongly disapproved of Dr. Dernburg's utterances justifying the sinking of the Lusitania and officials considered examining the statutes of the United States to determine what legal method might be invoked to end Dr. Dernburg's activity. It was thought best, however, first to intimate to Count von Bernstorff the feeling of the Washington government in the matter and ask him to request Dr. Dernburg to leave. This was made unnecessary by the decision of the former German official to leave of his own initiative.

No official status.

Although Dr. Dernburg had no official status the United States considered that while relations were strained between this country and Germany his speeches and utterances might influence some Germans in America in such a way as might conceivably affect the domestic welfare of the American people. The fact that Dr. Dernburg was once German colonial secretary and began his activity with the outbreak of the war, making speeches and issuing statements on various phases of the war on behalf of Germany, led officials here to believe many Germans in America attached official weight to his utterances.

The President and his advisers have observed with growing concern Dr. Dernburg's activity and when he spoke in Cleveland and New York justifying the sinking of the Lusitania it was decided that his activities must come to an end.

It was stated at the German embassy that an effort would be made to obtain safe conduct at the State Department for Dr. Dernburg so that he would be immune from detention at sea by the British and French. It is believed he will sail on an American ship for Holland on his way to Germany and officials do not believe any negotiations with the British or French governments will be necessary as the United States has held during the present war as well as in the past, that persons even of belligerent nationality can not be removed from neutral ships.

in his affidavit, the bank and its officers violated the law. One charge was that the bank carried excessive loans, sometimes concealed by dummy notes. Mr. Williams pointed out that under the Federal Reserve Act, the law required a National bank to maintain a reserve equal to 25 per cent. of its deposits, one-half of which must be in lawful money in its vaults. This the Riggs bank failed to do, said Mr. Williams.

Another charge by Mr. Williams is that the bank's books have not shown its true condition, and that many of its reports have been false. It also is charged that the bank in numerous ways has conducted its business irregularly and not with a view to best serving the banking needs of the community. Mr. Williams explained withdrawal from the bank of American Red Cross funds by saying that officers of that organization acted on his suggestion and found another bank which paid interest and secured deposits with collateral.

The affidavits are accompanied by tables showing loans to former officials of the Treasury Department tending to show proportionately large governmental deposits with the National City and Riggs Bank in former years and setting forth alleged stock market transactions by certain officials of the Riggs bank.

Burke Makes Reply.

John Burke, Treasurer of the United States, the third defendant, submitted an affidavit relating to the retention by him of $5,000 interest on government bonds of the Riggs bank, deposited with the Treasury to secure its note circulation. Mr. Burke said he acted in accordance with law.

A number of tables, charts and other statistical data were submitted with the answers, each of which makes a small volume. One gives a list of loans by the bank to former secretaries of the Treasury, assistant treasurers, former comtrollers of the currency and national bank examiners. The names of Leslie M. Shaw, William B. Ridgeley, L. A. Coolidge and others appear in the list.

Comptroller Williams in great detail denies that he has conspired to injure the bank and charges that it has violated the lawandbeen shdriu pu pu lated the law and been guilty of "improper practices" in stock brokerage transactions, excess loans, stock investment, excess liabilities, deficiencies in reserves, real estate loans, derectors' oaths, loans to officers and employes and Treasury Department officials. He says he has no intention of assessing any other fines.

Lengthy Details.

Both the answers of Mr. McAdoo and Mr. Williams go into great detail in recounting the negotiations between the Treasury and the banks in a local financial flurry here and relations between the Riggs bank and the National City Bank of New York.

Messrs. McAdoo and Williams and M. C. Elliott give their version of a conference in McAdoo's office at the conclusion of which the bank alleged in its complaint, McAdoo said to President Glover of the bank:

"Mr. Glover, you know what this means to the Riggs National Bank." The bank declared that to be a threat fulfilled later by withdrawal of government deposits.

McAdoo avers he made no such remark, but warned Glover that the then delicate financial situation might be made worse and that all the National banks in the city would suffer in consequence.

Mr. McAdoo swears that the vice president of the Riggs National received an annual salary of $12,000 from the National City Bank of New York and that four others identified with the Riggs bank received salaries from the National City, all totalling $18,740 a year.

Further Mr. McAdoo swears that Ailes, five days before he resigned as assistant Secretary of the Treasury and took the oath as a director of the Riggs National Bank, deposited $2,900,000 of government funds in that institution which drew no interest, as was then the custom.

Mr. McAdoo says that, as he went to a hospital for an operation early last March the imposition of fines by Comptroller Williams or that officer's refusal to approve the Riggs as a depositary for other National banks were no brought to his attention.

Bank Issues Statement.

The bank issued a statement taking issue with many of the allegations in the answers. It says that while Mr. Williams swears that he intends to exact no more penalties than the one for $5,000 he originally attempted to impose penalties aggregating $150,000. The National City Bank, it says, does not and could not under the law own a share of stock in the Riggs and that the two are not connected in any way.

With reference to loans to officers of the Treasury and the Comptroller's office, the bank's statement says it loaned also to officials in all other government departments and to many members of Congress feeling that accommodation to a person with credit and collateral ought not to be denied because he was a public official.

It declares the $2,900,000 deposited by Mr. Ailes was not taken from the Treasury, but was transferred from the National City Bank by the direction of Secretary Shaw.

The bank declares that in the 19 years of its existence Mr. Williams has found only three loans which he could characterize as "dummy loans" and each "was wholly free from deception or fraud," was lawful and amply secured. The charge that the Riggs bank had conducted a brokerage and real estate loan business and falsified or juggled or delayed its report to conceal illegal operation is declared to be "an unqualified falsehood."

The Verdict

—convincingly and overwhelmingly for Goodrich.

This company alone through the daily press of January 31st gave to the consuming public the most sweeping reduction ever made in tire prices. This established the only genuine Fair-List in existence on non-skid tires today.

Goodrich prices were dated February 1st in ordinary course. Other tires were reduced in prices a few days later and the reduction dated back to February 1st.

Every real price-reduction on tires has followed the lead of Goodrich.

As always, Goodrich policy and Goodrich methods first gave the tire user the benefit of reduced prices.

We lowered tire cost for every tire user when we did that.

We were more than content to await the verdict

And that verdict is overwhelmingly and convincingly in favor of Goodrich Tires and of Goodrich Fair-List prices.

We knew that the tire user was buying mileage-service—he was buying what the tires would do for him, rather than so much bulk rubber and fabric.

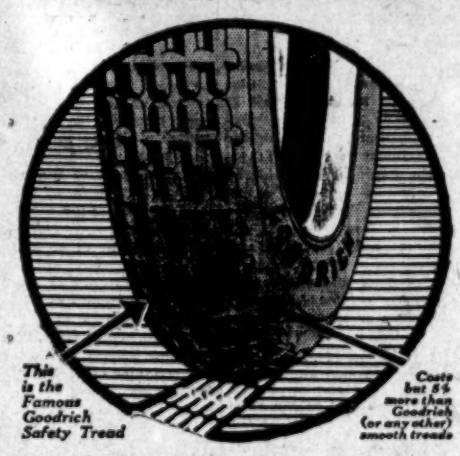
We knew what our long years of rubber manufacture and tire-making had taught us.

We knew we were making tires which had exactly the right amount of rubber and the right quantity of fabric to deliver exactly the right kind of service.

We knew that too much rubber and too much fabric would be as detrimental to the service of the tires as too little.

The tire user knows that Goodrich led in putting tire prices on their just and proper level.

Only 5% PLUS for the Best Non-Skid



This is the Famous Goodrich Safety Tread

Costs but 5% more than Goodrich (or any other) smooth treads

Note the following table of comparative prices on non-skid tires. Columns headed "A," "B," "C" and "D" represent four highly advertised tires and be sure to note Goodrich Safety Treads cost from 8% to 48% less than others shown below:

Size	Goodrich Safety Tread	OTHER MAKES "A"	"B"	"C"	"D"
30x3	$ 9.45	$10.55	$10.95	$16.35	$18.10
30x3½	12.20	13.35	14.20	21.70	23.60
32x3½	14.00	15.40	16.30	22.85	25.30
34x4	20.35	22.30	23.80	31.15	33.55
36x4½	28.70	32.15	33.60	41.85	41.40
37x5	33.90	39.80	41.80	49.85	52.05

You pay money for your tires. You want miles from your tires.

Goodrich Tires are built to deliver mileage at the least cost per mile, and to deliver it with the greatest ease, the greatest comfort and the greatest economy.

Every ounce of energy, every bit of intelligence, every flash of genius, every atom of efficiency in the whole Goodrich organization has been concentrated on this proposition of making tires which will surely give the greatest mileage at the least cost.

The Goodrich tire user knows that right now, today, with all the stampede to meet Goodrich prices, Goodrich quality is not met and that his dollar buys more tire service in Goodrich tires.

"As good as Goodrich" is today the plea.

Let us say to you, in all good faith and with every confidence in the fair-minded judgment of the tire user, that no other tire made has in it and of it the experience, the know-how and the know-why which govern the selection and the combination of the exact quality and quantity of rubber and fabric which constitute Goodrich Tires.

"Goodrich First" is the verdict of the motoring public, which knows that Goodrich first gave it the great benefit of Fair-List prices and which demands increasing thousands of last 15 years, sent a letter to the dinner in which he said:

"The efficiency of the fleet has progressed steadily and never has been so high as it is today."

The letter was read by Secretary Daniels.

"The people of New York have just cause for pride in the fleet now assembled in their harbor," wrote Admiral Dewey. Not only is it composed of the finest and most efficient warships that we ever have had, but it is not excelled except in size, by the fleet of any nation in the world; our officers are as good as any and our enlisted men are superior in training education, physical development and devotion to duty, to those of any other navy. As president of the general board for the last 15 year, I can say with absolute confidence that the efficiency of the fleet has progressed steadily and never has been so high as today.

"However, we need more ships, more officers and more men."

OFFICIAL FRENCH REPORT

Claims Germans Have Been Checked to the North of Ypres.

Paris, May 15.—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:

"To the north of Ypres, we have inflicted a check on the enemy. Our troops have taken several trenches in front of the Het Sas, and at the same time have occupied part of Steentraete, to the west of the canal and of the bridge on the canal. We captured three machine guns and about 50 prisoners, one of whom was an officer.

"To the north of Arras fighting continues, resulting in new progress for us.

"To the southeast of Notre de Lorette our attack has extended in the north beyond the sugar refinery of Souchez and we have drawn nearer to it in the west. We have in addition repulsed a counter-attack on the slopes to the south of Lorette.

"At Nouville St. Vaast, we were continuing the conquest of the northern part of the village and have captured several groups of troops.

"On the rest of the front there is nothing to report."

RESULTS OF SECOND ROUND

Several Surprises in Spring Championship Tournament of Country Club the Past Week.

There were several surprises in the results of the second round of the spring championship golf tournament of the Cape Fear Country Club the past week. The first three days were so rainy that the members were unable to play the match games. On Thursday, however, the clouds gave way to sunshine and the last of the week was ideal for golf.

In the matches in the first flight Mr. W. A. Townes defeated Mr. J. W. Carmichael, one up in 20 holes. This is really the sensational match of the play so far, Mr. Townes being considered one of the crack players, in fact, was the winner of last year's championship cup, and Mr. Carmichael one of the youthful players of the club, who has shown wonderful development in the past year, having last year played in the second flight, so that the honors are really divided. It was a pretty match from start to finish.

In the other matches in the first flight, Mr. W. A. French defeated Mr. Raymond Hunt; Dr. Stanly won from Mr. John R. Murchison, and Mr. J. A. Stewart from Mr. Fred W. Dick. Dr. Stanly now plays Mr. W. A. Townes and Mr. W. A. French plays Mr. J. A. Stewart in the semi-finals.

In the consolation match were the following players: Mr. A. S. Williams against Mr. W. E. Nelson; Mr. C. E. Taylor against Mr. Burke H. Bridgers, and Mr. W. Buckner against Mr. R. E. James. Their matches resulted in the elimination and the following now play the semi-finals in the consolation: Mr. A. S. Williams against Mr. C. E. Taylor, and Mr. Burke H. Bridgers against Mr. R. E. James.

In the second flight, Mr. J. H. Davis won against Mr. Waring and is now paired against Mr. A. B. Skelding, Mr. C. M. James won over Mr. A. B. Williams and is now pitted against Mr. D. W. Gross, who defeated Mr. Thos. W. Davis.

The matches in the first and second flights and in the consolation, that is the semi-finals, in all three of these flights must be played by Wednesday, May 26th, and the winners of the three flights will then themselves go into the final flight, the winners here being presented with the cups.

In the Ladies' Championship, Miss Margaret Pleasants defeated Mrs. A. B. Skelding. Miss Mary Bell, owing to conditions over which she could not have control, defaulted to Mrs. Adair McKoy. Miss Pleasants and Mrs. McKoy will now play for the Ladies' championship cup for the Country Club. Their match being regularly scheduled for Friday, May 21st, but may be played any day this week agreeable to themselves.

In the second flight, Mrs. R. W. Barker will play Mrs. Lyman Delano for the championship for the second flight.

Beginning Wednesday of this week, the annual North and South Carolina Golf Tournament starts at Charleston, S. C., and it is the earnest desire of the officers of the Country Club that Wilmington be well represented and if any of the members of the club can or will go, if they will communicate with the captain of the greens, Mr. W. A. French, he will be more than delighted to make all arrangements at Charleston for them. Charlotte has already arranged to send a large delegation of players and it is expected that several other cities in the State will be represented.

New Haven, Conn., May 15.—Yale defeated Harvard in the dual track games today 56 to 48 points.

SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1915.

The government is quiet and judicious, but the instinct to bluster has not been lost by the press.

Everybody but Roosevelt, it seems, wants it left in Wilson's hands. Teddy wants it left in his, but he finds himself a minority of one.

The New York Herald lays claim to voicing American sentiment, but evidently The Herald has been misled by a "clutching hand" primary at Oyster Bay.

Of all the low-down sneaks in naval warfare, the submarine is It. Airships are above doing what a submarine does when it slips up under the water and hits below the belt.

Two lightweight champions are to fight in San Francisco, but it is not stated whether they are grocers or butchers whose scales were recently taken away from them and dumped into the bay.

Colonel Roosevelt should at once recruit the New York Herald and move two or three meters towards the front where Boston baked beans and strawberry shortcake can be tackled with impunity.

Patriotic paragraphers are expected to volunteer their services for double duty so the long-meter writers on the staff can have a chance to go and fight for the country or the city, whichever is threatened the most.

American literature has made progress in the direction of serio-comic tragedy. Milton Noble said: "And the villain still pursued her." That's no joke. Since poor Milton's death all the villains are pursuing either her or some other heroine.

Colonel Roosevelt is the Italy of American politics. He is right on the brink of returning to the Republican party, but he is not going to decide till he knows that the party wants him to come back so it can nominate him for president.

Barnes went on the witness stand in Syracuse on Thursday and swore that there was no truth in several things stated by Colonel Roosevelt in his testimony. This shows that when Republicans fall out they look upon each other as perjurers.

Whenever Colonel Roosevelt begins to manifest signs of an impending eruption, a North Carolinian says he reminds him of a speech he heard in New Jersey during the 1912 campaign. The speaker was a Republican and he said in earnest tones to the audience: "If you want low tariff and stagnation, vote for Woodrow Wilson. If you want prosperity, vote for Taft. If you don't know what the h—l you want, vote for Roosevelt."

Mrs. Allie Gaytion seemed to be in a stew when the old man sauntered in. As soon as she got a glimpse of him she faced him and said: "I just want to know what you did—" "I er-er, didn't do it—haven't done a blamed thing—never did anything of the kind, whatever it is—did what?" the old man broke in. Amused at his premature denial of everything, his wife said: "I want to know what you did with that letter I gave you to mail."

If Huerta drops down town in New York to get him some several bracers, he will see something that will cause him to doubt whether there is such a thing as "sober" American judgment. He may think as an "Eyetalian" says: "American man think he fair-mind. He is very much so not. Him speak before he know very much, not anything. He have ideas that he have right to speak his mind, but he speak very much too quick before he know what he talk about so much and so very loud. He don't make up any mind first already, but just talk and don't worry about think much afterwards, no how. American he like gun which ain't think is loaded. Him fire away anyhow and hit somebody whoever is no matter very much."

AMERICA WAITS.

America waits for Germany's answer to President Wilson's note, and it is to be hoped that, even if it does not comply fully with the American demands for the safety of her people on ships at sea and for the safety of all non-combatants who find themselves at the mercy of submarines in the war zone, it may open the way for avoidance of a crisis that is admittedly grave.

Meanwhile, American sentiment supports President Wilson in his course. The tone of the press is openly hostile to Germany, contrary to the dignified and firm but courteous and friendly tone of the administration's note to the Kaiser's government. If Germany were to judge the Washington government by the sentiments uttered by the American press, it would conclude that this country can be counted among the enemies of Germany.

However, there is nothing in President Wilson's note to indicate the possibility of a breach with Germany, unless that country casts the die itself. It is given a chance to maintain friendly relations and peace with America, but that is up to Germany. Some of the American press regards the President's note as an ultimatum, but it cannot be construed as such, as it is a demand for reparation which Germany will have to answer in her reply before an ultimatum can issue from America. It is a warning that no more American lives must be sacrificed by Germany's submarine warfare. Even if Germany were to refuse to give any guarantee to desist from sinking ships with neutrals and non-combatants aboard, she would have to commit an overt act before an ultimatum would be in order.

In fact, if more American lives are sacrificed by Germany's submarine attacks, no ultimatum would be necessary or expected. It would then be up to the United States to sever diplomatic relations or proceed to hit the blow in defense of American citizens.

We must remember, however, that this country and Germany are yet on friendly terms, though the relations are more strained than cordial. Till there is an actual break it is not worth while for the press to regard Germany as an enemy country, as one would judge from the heated sentiments expressed by practically the entire press of America.

It is forecasted that Germany's answer to President Wilson's note will be either friendly, negative or defiant. We cannot judge about that till Germany answers so that guessing may not be idly indulged in by an unfriendly press. However, it can be said that the possibilities are momentous till Germany's answer and her subsequent attitude cease to arouse the American people in their resentment because of acts which have destroyed the lives of Americans engaged in no hostile act against a country which claims to be on friendly terms and yet destroys non-combatants in order to make war on implacable enemies.

As the matter stands now, it is up to Germany to remain on friendly terms with America, or to bring about severance of diplomatic relations, or war, by repeating acts resulting in the destruction of American lives. It is hoped that America waits for good news.

GENERAL CARR AND THE GOVERNORSHIP

If Gen. Julian S. Carr feels like being a candidate for governor, or his loyal friends wish to submit his name to the Democratic voters of the State, there should be no hesitation on the ground that somebody wants to "pull the general's leg." Of course, General Carr is a wealthy man and doubtless there are men who would "pull his leg" if they got a chance, but we hope that class of pirates are few in North Carolina. However, the Greensboro Record seems to dread to see General Carr make the race for fear he will be headed off by the "leg-pullers" in the party. Perish the thought! Yet The Record says:

"Now and then some paper or two tries to start a boom for General Carr for Governor, but we still hope he is wise enough to tell 'em to go the dickens. As long as a man has a leg left to pull some one is forever tugging away at it."

Several papers have expressed similar fear of General Carr's financial immunity if he should make the race, but we think the dread thereof is largely if not wholly psychological. We don't really know whether General Carr would car to run or not, and we would not urge him to run, but if that loyal Democrat and able, distinguished North Carolinian has such worthy aspirations as to serve his State and party, he should not be frightened by reports that grafters are lurking in the bushes.

General Carr would buy a gold brick—we don't think. Neither would he be guileless enough to let anybody sneak up and "pull his leg." He surely would see them first and "Nay Pauline" the craven hunch. So long as that beloved North Carolinian stands on his dignity and rights, we would not think anybody would find his leg dangling loose while he is running the race.

If there are any "leg pullers" in the Democratic party in North Carolina they ought to be double crossed and handed over to the police. They should not be allowed to hang around and deter rich men from running for governor or hold out for swag and so make it impossible for a poor man to seek the governorship of his State. Whether a North Carolina Democrat has no money or has a lot of it, so long as either is true blue and four square, they should be given to understand that they need not fear any set of panhandlers who monkey around in election years.

The best way to find out who is a campaign grafter or a worker of both sides of the political street is to turn loose a boulder on them. If they dodge or run or wince, show them the way to go home, just so they do not claim in the Democratic neck of the woods.

We have more respect for the Democratic party in North Carolina than to believe that there are enough buck-sheesh rangers to scare anybody off from running for Governor. If they are so formidable as that, it is time to turn a "Busy Bertha" loose on their stronghold.

A CONSTRUCTIVE COMMUNITY MAN.

In the Manufacturers' Record of May 13 we get a fine glimpse of what a constructive community man is—the man who has the initiative, the man who sets the pace, the man who has the pluck to do things, the man who originates and the man who demonstrates by means of his own enterprise and success. That kind of man is Mr. Charles M. Kelly, a farmer who lives near Lake City, South Carolina. Mr. Kelly has invested $5,000 in a roller flour and grist mill. His mill will manufacture 25 barrels of flour a day and will turn out corn meal, grits and feedstuffs in quantities to serve a large trade as well as take care of the custom of the community. Mr. Kelly writes the Manufacturers' Record as follows:

"This mill is put in for the accommodation of the surrounding community and to encourage the planting of wheat in this section. There are no flour mills nearer than 25 miles, and quite a large acreage is in wheat in this section. So for the accommodation of this community I have undertaken to put in a small plant, hoping thereby to encourage the planting of wheat and getting our farmers out of the old rut of planting cotton alone. More wheat and grain mean more cattle and hogs; more cattle and hogs mean more prosperity to our farmers; more prosperity means better schools and a general moving on all lines. I am a small farmer myself, but have made my farm sustain itself in grain, hay, pork, lard, etc. I plant some cotton only as a surplus crop. I have all of my last year's cotton on hand now waiting for a better price. I haven't got to sell. My barn is full of corn, hay and oats, and, my smokehouse has a year's supply of good home-cured bacon and lard, and I hope soon to have some home-ground flour in there, too. Plenty of milk, butter, chickens and eggs, and pretty soon we will have plenty of vegetables and fruit. So you see that I am only a small farmer living very much at home."

Mr. Kelly gives potent reasons why he decided to invest $5,000 in the milling industry. The Star has several times pointed to the fact that growing grain is not all there is to producing wheat, corn and other grains. For instance, considerable grain production starts up such manufacturing enterprises as roller and grist mills, and certain it is that where there is a mill it creates a market for grain as well as furnishes the facilities for taking care of the custom patronage of the community. Growing wheat and corn merges into manufacture of flour, meal and feed stuffs, and thus grain production becomes a potent industrial and economic factor in a community.

That is not all there is to it, however, as Mr. Kelly intimates, when he states that cattle and hog raising are collateral with grain growing. Out of it comes beef production, pork production, butter production and milk production, not to mention the fertilizer value of the livestock industry. Mr. Kelly tells how it is, and he has given a practical demonstration of it himself.

So far as making money by diversified farming is concerned, no one has to go to Missouri to be shown. Mr. Kelly can show it at his farm near Lake City, in the cotton, tobacco and peanut country, which also is so versatile in its productive adaptabilities that all crops grown anywhere can be produced down in this South Atlantic garden spot.

The farmer who thinks he has to plant cotton to make money had better ask Mr. Kelly, who says he doesn't have to make cotton and is not compelled to sell it till he gets good and ready. Why? Because his diversified crops finance him or take care of his cotton while the market is low. He goes on living on the bounty of the land and he does not have to sell 10 cents cotton at 8 or 9 cents to buy something to eat. He lives cheaper than that by making what he eats.

Such men as Mr. Kelly furnish shining examples for that class of men who think farming is growing cotton or tobacco in order to have money to buy all the supplies needed on the farm. What nonsense!

GET FACTORIES AND KEEP THEM.

The Star stands for getting factories and keeping them after Wilmington gets them. This city needs great and small industries and there should be a never ending campaign to make this one of the greatest manufacturing centers of the State. It has the distributing facilities by water and rail for export and domestic manufacturing and that is its chief advantage along with lots of others.

Diversified industries are what Wilmington needs, for factories of various kinds would build up the city more rapidly than can be done by any other means. Numerous small industries are as good as a few big ones if they are well patronized and if united efforts are made to see that they get patronage at home and abroad.

The Jacksonville Metropolis says Jacksonville has a number of small industries that are growing. So is Jacksonville growing, if you'll take notice of it, for her industries are building up bigger payrolls every year. The Metropolis says so, and as to Jacksonville's small industries, that paper says: "We ought to patronize them and make the payrolls grow, and we ought to point to their success and to the Jacksonville trade territory as reasons why we should have more factories."

That certainly would be a fine way to get others, for pointing to success achieved always clinches the argument. A lot of poorly patronized or starved industries would be a dead give-away for a city. Are we patronizing Wilmington industries as we should, or do we expect them to live on hot air?

"Small industries are what make great towns," the Montgomery Times asserts. "Then the thing to do after we get them is all to buy the things they make, and see that merchants handle them," is the way the Montgomery paper nails it down. Are we doing that in Wilmington, or are we just simply neglecting the factories we have? How about this, right now?

If it is made in Wilmington, call for it and raise cane till you get it. Atlanta insists on having everything that is made there. If something is made in Atlanta and one wants to sell a similar article made elsewhere, there's "nothing doing". Even if anybody makes trouble in Atlanta, she thinks Atlanta trouble is greater than all the punk trouble of any other burg on the continent.

CURRENT COMMENT.

For some years past the New York Herald has been undergoing a gradual but steady process of de-Americanization. It was hardly possible for the paper to remain in touch with the American spirit and American sentiment with its owner so entirely divorced from them. The Herald's loss of balance in the recent crisis is therefore of easy explanation. In the case of the Boston Transcript, however, the explanation is not so readily to be advanced, unless, as the Philadelphia Record suggests, it has become "an old-maidenish, hysterical sheet." The Transcript referred to the President's Philadelphia speech as "rambling rhetoric, full of moralizing generalities and peace platitudes." Under present conditions any paper that manifests a tendency to belittle President Wilson and to withhold support from the Administration at Washington, is but making place for itself among the institutions that will be held in contempt in the future history of the United States.—Charlotte Observer.

BERRY MOVEMENT IS UP TO EXPECTATIONS

Over Eight Hundred Cars Sent to Northern Markets.

Seventy-Eight Carloads Shipped Yesterday—Wide Distribution of Consignments—Lettuce Prices Still Continue Good.

According to the daily bulletin of the Carolina Fruit and Truckers' Journal yesterday, the strawberry movement out of the Wilmington territory to date foots up a toal of 719 cars under refrigeration by the Fruit Growers' Express and about 120 cars by the Southern Express or a total thus far of 839 cars. The movement yesterday was 78 cars under refrigeration and by express, which is regarded as fully up to expectations and in line with the forecast of the Truckers' Journal earlier in the season.

The movement and distribution of cars yesterday showed a wide distribution, the prices and number of cars to each market being as follows: Potomac yards, 11 cards for distribution; New York, 27 cars, prices 5 to 10 cents; Newark, N. J., five cars, 7 to 12 cents; Philadelphia, 12 cars, 7 to 10 cents; Baltimore, one car, 5 to 10 cents; Washington, D. C., 101 crates, 5 to 9 cents; Wilmington, Del., 8 to 9 cents; Providence, R. I., 9 to 10 cents, Chester, Pa., 7 to 9 cents; Richmond, Va., 20 crates, 5 to 8 cents; Boston, Mass., eight cars, 10 to 13 cents; Springfield, Mass., one car, 9 to 12 cents; Hartford, Conn., 8 to 11 cents; Worcester, Mass., 9 to 10 cents; Bridgeport, Conn., one car, 9 to 12 cents; Waterbury, Conn., 9 to 11 cents; Pittsburgh, Pa., one car, 6 to 10 cents; Altoona, Pa., 8 to 10 cents; Reading, Pa., 9 to 11 cents; Buffalo, N. Y., one car, 9 to 10 cents, Scranton, Pa., 9 to 11 cents; Erie, Pa., 9 to 10 cents; Wilkesbarre, Pa., two cars, 8 to 10 cents; Syracuse, N. Y., one car, 10 to 12 cents; Harrelsville, N. Y., one car; Troy, N. Y., three cars,9 to 11 cents; Rochester, N. Y., 10 to 11 cents; Albany, N. Y., 10 to 11 cents; Elmira, N. Y., one car, 10 to 12 cents; Williamsport, Pa., one car, prices 8 to 11 cents; Cleveland, Ohio, 10 to 15 cents.

North Carolina lettuce was quoted on many of the same markets at from $1 to $1.75 a hamper. English peas at $1 to $2 a package, wax beans from $2.50 to $3.50 a basket and cabbage from $2 to $3.25 a crate.

The vegetable movement from the Charleston district was as follows: New York, 16 cars cabbage, one car lettuce, three cars vegetables; Providence, one car cabbage; Baltimore, five cars cabbage; Philadelphia, nine cars cabbage; Toronto, two cars cabbage; Montreal, one car cabbage; Hamilton, one car cabbage; Potomac yards, one car cabbage; Boston, one car cabbage; Richmond, one car cabbage. Total of 42 cars.

An interesting foot-note to the bulletin is as follows:

"Our telegraphic market reports today show that the Eastern markets like New York city, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, are still overloaded with berries. Express shipments will proctically all have to go to Richmond, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia; hence at least 50 per cent. of the carload shipments that would ordinarily go to these points should be diverted to other cities for today, tomorrow and Monday. Shun the low-priced overstocked markets. Western points like Cleveland, Columbus and Toledo, Ohio; interior Pennsylvania and New York State towns, printed on this bulletin, can each and all of them handle from one to three carloads a day."

MR. M. L. HARDEMAN WILL HAVE CHARGE OF ATLANTA OFFICE

Local Business Man Goes With Wilmington Beach Corporation.

Officers of the Wilmington Beach Corporation announce that Mr. M. L. Hardeman, a well-known business man of this city, has become associated with the company and will leave within the next week or ten days for Atlanta, Ga., where he will be sales manager of the company's office at that place.

Mr. Hardeman has been a resident of Wilmington for several years, and his many friends here will be delighted to know that he will not remove his family to Atlanta, but will continue to make his home here.

Many Atlanta people are already lot owners at Wilmington Beach, and it has been rumored for some time that a well-known Atlanta multi-millionaire is interested in the development of the resort, and will probably erect a cottage there at an early date. The same man is also said to be interested in the project to establish a large tourish hotel at Wilmington Beach, and while the officers of the company decline to make any statements with reference to these rumors at this time, they say that plans are progressing very satisfactorily and definite announcements are promised at an early date.

SWIMMING LESSONS WILL CONTINUE THIS WEEK

Instruction at Y. M. C. A. Proves to Be Popular Feature.

During the past week at the Y. M. C. A. 533 swimming lessons have been given to the boys in the city, who at the time the swimming campaign started did not know how to swim, and after the boys were checked up yesterday afternoon, 42 of them were able to swim and had learned the crawl stroke during the last week. Each boy was presented with a button on which was printed Y. M. C. A. swimming award, and a picture of a swimmer diving through the triangle into the water.

It has been decided by the instructor, Mr. J. P. Seitters to continue the swimming lessons during this week, as so many of the boys could not be given lessons during the past week because there were so many of them and owing to the size of the pool the first 30 boys in each class were the ones to get in and about as many more had to be turned away. There were three classes each day and about 35 accommodated in each class. So the special instruction will continue all this week for the boys who did not learn the past week.

Arrives at Her Destination.

The Associated Press dispatches last night announced that the steamer City of Savannah had arrived at Havre, France, from Wilmington. This vessel recently left this port with a cargo of cotton from Alexander Sprunt & Son. She carried several Wilmingtonians as passengers.

SENTIMENT AGAINST RECALL

Petitions, However, Are Still in Circulation and May Be Formally Filed in Few Days.

While the petitions for the recall of the Mayor and members of City Council were still in circulation yesterday and last night and it was stated that already more than enough names have been secured to insure the recall if the petitions are presented, there is a growing sentiment against a recall election, and the opinion was expressed yesterday in business circles that those advocating the recall may be pursuaded to let the matter drop.

Others predict, however, that he petions will be formally filed with the city clerk and treasurer within the next few days, in which event, if all legal technicalities have been complied with, it will be necessary to call the recall election, as provided by law.

The business and professional men of the city are squarely against the recall idea and others who a few days ago were advocating the recall are now generally satisfied since Council appears to have reached an understanding and a footing that promises no further delay in the transaction of the city's business.

The next meeting of Council will be held tomorrow evening, for the purpose of considering the tax ordinance for the coming fiscal year. This meeting will be more in the nature of a conference, and so definite action is likely to be taken at this time. Council will probably hold night meetings frequently during the next two weeks, working on the tax ordinance and getting the budget into shape.

THIRD INFANTRY ASSOCIATION TO OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Meeting Will be Held Tomorrow at Captain W. H. Northrop's Cottage.

The 50th anniversary of the old Third North Carolina Infantry Association will be celebrated at Capt. W. H. Northrop's cottage on Wrightsville Beach tomorrow, Monday, May 17th.

Only about 10 of the survivors of grand old Third Infantry are now living, but the organization is perpetuated by the election to membership of the sons of the veterans and their associates, and it may well be so, in order to maintain its existence, for the Third N. C. Infantry Association is said to have been the first organization of veterans of the War Between the States on either side.

A history of the Association, together with a roster of its original and present membership, is now in course of preparation.

The members of the Association are looking forward to an enjoyable meeting tomorrow and the many friends of the little group of heroes who wore the gray will wish for them a most pleasant occasion.

JUNIOR ORDER EXCURSION

The 52nd anniversary of the Junior Order, United American Mechanics, in North Carolina, also the anniversary of the Mecklenburg Oeclaration of Independence, will be celebrated by the two local councils of the Junior order Thursday, May 20, with the annual excursion and outing to Carolina Beach, and indications point to a large attendance.

The steamer Wilmington will make three trips to the beach for the occasion, the first leaving the city at 9:30 a. m.; the second at 2:45 p. m., and the third at 7:30 p. m.

An interesting programme is being arranged for the day, and the entertainment features will include music, dancing and athletic contests, also fishing and surf bathing for those who desire.

Tickets for the round trip will be sold at 25 cents, and it is expected that a very large number of friends of the order will go down to the beach to spend the day, especially as this will be the first of the summer excursions to Carolina Beach.

The committee in charge has been assured that the approach to the Carolina Beach pier, which has filled in somewhat during the winter, will be dredged out and the pier put in first class condition by Thursday.

MANY WITNESSES EXAMINED

Case Against White Men Charged With Larceny Bitterly Contested in Federal Court Here.

The entire day was taken up in Federal Court yesterday in the examination of witnesses in the cases against five white men, former employes of the Seaboard Air Line yards at Hamlet, who are charged with the larceny of interstate freight while in transit there. It is not expected that the trial will be completed before Monday night. The members of the jury which was held together Friday night on account of the importance of the case were allowed to return to their homes last night.

The government completed the examination of its witnesses shortly after the opening of the afternoon session and the defendants then began the introduction of their evidence. It was said last night that they would have but few more witnesses to examine. The government will then offer evidence in rebuttal.

A feature of the examination yesterday was a miniature map of the Seaboard yards at Hamlet which had been made by Mr. C. H. Williamson, one of the defendants, who was chief car inspector for the railroad at the time of the alleged larceny from cars of merchandise consisting of silks, hats, tobacco and other goods. This map was drawn to a scale and on it were pasteboard representations of the houses, cars and other fixtures on the yards. While this was not offered as evidence it aided materially in fixing in the minds of the jurors the location of the cars alleged to have been robbed and the offices and other buildings on the yards.

The defendants were given good characters by some 15 witnesses in court yesterday afternoon and the same witnesses declared that the character of the railroad detective, who worked up the case against the defendants, was bad.

The government alleges that the merchandise which was found at or near the office of Williamson, who was car inspector at the time, was taken from cars with his knowledge. He denies this, however, and in his testimony yesterday declared that as soon as he learned of its presence there he notified the superintendent by telephone. The telephone central girl was placed on the stand to corroborate this statement.

The other defendants in the case, W. B. Wilson, F. L. McDuffie, C. J. Heath and R. C. Dorey, also testified yesterday and denied any knowledge of how the merchandise came to be where it is alleged by the government to have been found.

The defendants are all men of some prominence at Hamlet. They are represented by W. C. Douglass, Esq., of Raleigh, John P. Cameron, Esq., and Lowdermilk & Dockery, of Rockingham, and L. Medlin, Esq., of Hamlet. District Attorney Francis D. Winston is conducting the prosecution for the government.

Doan's Kidney Pills can't be beat, and I don't hesitate in saying so to anyone who wants to know of a good, reliable kidney medicine."

ANNUAL DISTRICT MEETING OF U. D. C. AT WHITEVILLE

Whiteville, N. C., May 14.—The third annual meeting of the 12th district of the North Carolina division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was held with the Jefferson Davis chapter Wednesday.

Quiet prevailed when the president of the hostess chapter, Mrs. Isaac Jackson, rapped for order. America was sung by the audience, after which a beautiful and touching prayer was offered by Rev. Stanley White, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Mr. White also graciously rendered "Heart of Mine," by Galloway. The president of the hostess chapter did honor to herself and her chapter by her beautiful address of welcome, to which Mrs. W. M. Creasy, of Wilmington, in her most gracious manner, responded.

Mrs. A. E. Powell, in impressive words, presented to the meeting the State president, Mrs. Eugene Little, of Wadesboro. Mrs. Little proved herself well informed as to the work, giving much valuable information and urging the ladies to go forward in this work, which she considers rangs next to that of the church. She laid special stress upon the organizing of children's chapters, that true Confederate history may be instilled into their minds.

Reports were heard from Wilmington, Whiteville and Burgaw chapters.

Mrs. Ingram, State secretary, told beautifully of the work of the chilchildren's chapter of Wadesboro, and Mrs. Creasy proved herself a veritable storehouse of knowledge as to the work of the U. D. C.

Mrs. J. A. Brown spoke of her efforts to organize a chapter at Chadbourn, and she hopes in the very near future to succeed in the undertaking.

A beautiful repast was served by the ladies of the hostess chapter after the morning session.

ROOF GARDEN PARTY WAS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The roof garden party on top of the Murchison National Bank building yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the ladies of Sorosis was a most enjoyable affair and was largely attended. The decorations consisting of 500 pine trees with many jardinieres of roses made the scene one of rare charm and beauty and added to this was the splendid view to be had of the city and of the Cape Fear river. An orchestra played during the afternoon many of the popular airs. Here and there on the roof were tiny tables for the serving of delicious ice cream and refreshing punch. Candy and cake were also served.

Mrs. J. G. Barentine had charge of the serving of ice cream and was assisted by Mrs. W. G. Whitehead and others. Mrs. W. A. Waring presided at the punch bowl and was assisted in serving by Mrs. Hugh MacRae and Mrs. E. K. Bryan. Mrs. E. L. Prince was assisted at the candy table by Mrs. J. O. Carr, Mrs. J. Walter Williamson and Miss Elise Kidder.

Mrs. E. H. Munson had charge of the decorations and was ably assisted in arranging the plan by Mr. Frank Mead and Mr. Hess. The ladies are under many obligations to the Sterchi-Bancroft Company, the Clark-Lynch Lumber Company and the Jacobi Hardware Company, who contributed the tables and other fixtures for the occasion, and to the management of the Murchison building for the use of the roof.

MR. SIMEON F. CALDWELL TO WED MISS RUTH KEISTER

Lumebrton, N. C., May 15.—The following announcement from the Pulaski, Va., Southwest Daily Times, of May 12, will be read with much interest throughout this section, where the groom-to-be has a large circle of friends.

"A very interesting social Tuesday afternoon was the announcement luncheon given by Mesdames Walter C. Price and P. Cabell Massie at the home of Mrs. Price, it being the occasion for the formal announcement of the marriage of Miss Ruth Keister, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Keister, to Mr. Simeon F. Caldwell, of Lumberton, N. C. The wedding will be one of the interesting events of the month of June. It was one of the most delightful of the wedding social occasions over which Mesdames Price and Massie have so happily presided. The plans for the announcement luncheon were beautifully arranged, and the guest list included those who were intimately associated with the bride-to-be.

"The color design was an artistic arrangement of pink and green, carried out in the table appointments. Snowball, crab-apple blossoms and bridal wreath graced the table at which the guests were served to a most tempting luncheon course. Cards of dainty design at the plates announced the engagement of Miss Keister to Mr. Caldwell. A happy suggestion of the matrimonial event was the doll-bride at the place of the bride-elect, while doll-bridesmaids were at the plates of the honored on this occasion. A table could not be more appropriately arranged than it was for this occasion, and it was a happy party over which the hostesses so charmingly presided.

"Those who were honored with invitations to this 1 o'clock luncheon were: Miss Keister, in whose honor it was given, Mrs. D. F. Agnew, Misses Mary Wysor, Margaret Landis, Mary Trolinger, Mary Keister, Julia Bobison, Charlotte Trolinger, Louise Holland and Bessie Bell."

Mr. Caldwell is the junior member of the firm of R. D. Caldwell & Son, one of the leading mercantile houses of this section of the State, and one of the most popular young men to be found anywhere.

THEATRICAL

The Famous Players Film Company's sympathetic and realistic photo-adaptation of David Belasco's great American drama, "May Blossom," at the Victoria, will undoubtedly revive the interest so universally created by the original stage production of this famous play. Its tender romance, its frank presentation of problems familiar in our domestic life, and its thrilling military aspects of the great national struggle of a half century ago, combine to make this subject one of the most typical and appealing American plays ever produced. In the photoplay the pictorial and scenic possibilities of this big drama are remarkably enhanced, and the interest of the stirring plot is greatly strengthened by the more elaborate presentation made possible on the screen.

"May Blossom" impressed the nation with its power and charm. The photoplay will make this great Belasco success completely unforgetable. The love of two men for a Southern girl, the unexpected circumstances that take away her favored suitor, who is suspected of being a spy, the perfidy of him who remains, who marries her through a lie, and his subsequent redemption form the fabric of the tense romance.

The play is effectively enacted by a sterling Famous Players cast, including Gertrude Robinson, Russell Bassett, Marshall Neilan, Donald Crisp and Gertrude Norman.

At the Grand This Week.

Tomorrow is "Feature Day" sure at the Grand, every production on the program being a two-reel special. The Keystone "That Little Band of Gold", has three of the most famous Keystone stars, Ford Sterling, Mabel Normand and "Fatty" Arbuckle furnishing the comedy. Fatty and Mabel are husband and wife and haven't been long married. Ford lures his corpulent friend to the cafe where they entertain Ford's friends to the neglect of Mabel and when that personage appears trouble begins. A divorce follows, then both repent and re-marry. It is fun from start to finish. In the Essanay "The Turn of the Wheel" Richard Travers personality is well adapted to the leading role in this drama of business life. The fight for a fortune and a woman's love go hand in hand and the plot reveals a sane and truthful picture of modern conditions. Lillian Drew plays the part of the heroine and does it most gracefully. "The Wells of Paradise" is a Western drama produced by the Broncho Company and is a story of a widow and her son, who trade their home for some land near the town of Paradise, and which turns out to be a rich oil field. The scenic effects are beautiful and the fight at the dam is a splendid dramatic scene. Mr. Chas. Ray and Gertrude Claire have the leading roles.

The Week at the Bijou.

"Biggest week in its history"—That's what the coming week is destined to be at the home of "The Incomparable Movies". It starts tomorrow with a rousing six-reel bill headed by that great two-reel melodrama mystery comedy, "At the Banquet Table" featuring King Baggot and Arline Pretty, and four other big pictures, given in program elsewhere in today's Star.

Tuesday will come one of the biggest United dramas of the year, "The Rain of Death," a startlingly realistic and thrilling two-reeler featuring Joseph Levering, Doris Pawn and Sidney Ayres in "Tiny Hands"; Eddie Lyons and Vicky Forde in a rouser, and Marion Sawyne in a great United comedy, "The Automatic House."

Wednesday comes "The Black Box", as a great two-reel Universal drama, "For Cash," featuring Warren Kerrigan and Vera Sisson, and a rousing Joker comedy.

Thursday, the very biggest treat of the week—or of several weeks, for that matter—a mammoth three-reel dramatic feature, "The Faith of Her Fathers" with Cleo Madison, Joe King and Murdock MacQuarrie playing leading roles. This is as big a story as ever seen in a six-reel feature, and is crammed into three reels of the most entertaining photoplay you've ever seen. It is the biggest treat of the month—so don't miss it.

Friday with "The Exploits of Elaine" will come four other big reels, including "The Little Girl of the Attic" a rousing two-reeler with Helen Leslie and M. K. Robbins, and then, Billie Ritchie in a great L-Ko, "Father Was Neutral," and Lee Moran and Vicky Forde in a most unique Nestor, "Caught by a Thread."

Saturday "Rene Haggard Journeys On," a great two-reeler with Dorothy Phillips and Ben Wilson, and Billy Reeves, the greatest musical comedy stage comedian of the world, in a great Sterling comedy, "Counting Out the Count."

SPLENDID PROGRESS MADE

Interesting Resume of Activities of Sorosis Given in Annual Report of the Retiring President.

An interesting resume of the activities of North Carolina Sorosis is embodied in the annual report of the retiring president, Mrs. M. L. Stover, which was submitted at the regular meeting of the organization the past week. It was unanimously voted by the members that it should be published in the public press. The report in full is as follows:

If prophecy is more interesting than history, the latter, where made, must be the recorded experiences of the past that will serve as stepping stones to higher attainments and warn against probable pitfalls in the future.

Our club now numbers 140 members and in reviewing the work of the past year we are convinced that the scope of its activities have broadened along the several lines of its branches of work. It will not be necessary for me to touch upon the work of the departments except to congratulate the chairmen upon the delightful work and remarkable results achieved, especially of the Literature Department. The programmes have been most interesting and those who did not attend regularly missed an intellectual feast and entertainment of rare enjoyment.

The Music Department has also done fine work and is a department of which the club may well be proud. The Domestic Science Department, while not adhering to a programme, is working for the worthy cause of vocational training in the public schools and has taken up other work of vital interest to the community.

Though the Civic Department chairman was absent from the city a great part of the winter, the committee appointed to carry on the work with Mrs. E. H. Munson as chairman has indomitably worked to make beautiful certain spots within the city, namely: the Hemenway school yard and the front of the postoffice square. This was made possible by the gift of the Tidewater Power Company of its usual donation of $250.

The work of the Social Service Committee has been wonderful in its results as shown by the reports of the Travelers' Aid. Results, however, of work like this can never be adequately measured, but so successfully has the work been done that the club should determine to continue it.

The Fine Arts and Industrial Exhibit held in November was a splendid success from an artistic, educational and financial standpoint. On a larger scale than ever before with increased interest in every phase of industry in the community, which meant a greater number of exhibits and with attractive rooms in which it was held made it a memorable event in the history of the city.

The opera "Fi Fi" was an undertaking of the year which proved a success in every way. To Mrs. E. K. Bryan, who was chairman of the Entertainment Committee, is due largely the credit of the success of the performance.

The Educational Committee made a decided hit over the State upon its recommendation to the graduating class of the High School that the dresses worn by the seniors not exceed $2.50 in cost.

During the year the club house was purchased at a cost of $8,750, $1,250 being paid in cash. The money was loaned by the American National Bank and the Atlantic Trust & Banking Company. In order to rent the building to greater advantage the entire third floor was re-plastered and bathroom fixtures installed. The insurance has been paid for the first year. A letter has been received from the County Commissioners declaring the property exempt from taxation. Bonds to the amount of $7,500 have been issued. The Atlantic Trust & Banking Company carries $2,500; the People's $2,500; Wilmington Trust & Savings $500. The remaining $2,000 was the property of the American National Bank which wished the club to dispose of them. There have been sold $1,100 worth to individuals, leaving $900 worth yet to be sold in order to settle up the account at that bank. The State Federation purchased a bond with money from the endowment fund.

The money from the sale of candy at the Chautauqua amounted to $32, which will settle the insurance for the year.

The treasurer has handled during the year $1,507.66, exclusive of the club house receipts. This is $667 more than last year and does not include $250 donated by the Tidewater Power Company. There is a balance of $109.81 for the Travelers' Aid and a balance of $88.19 of the club funds. The interest is in the bank for payment on the bonds when due.

The work of the year has been strenuous requiring a great deal of the president's time. It has been a pleasant task, made so by the loyal support of the first vice president, who has also acted as chairman of the Finance Committee; the cordial co-operation of the second vice president in every way when her services were needed, and the cheerful willingness of the treasurer, who has been so efficient and ready to serve at all times. The recording secretary has been untiring in her efforts to promote the work of the club and has been the right hand of the president and was invaluable as an assistant when the bonds were issued. The corresponding secretary with the increased amount of mail to attend to has ever been ready to do her part and has given the president her loyal support at all times. Although the auditor has only to examine the books of the treasurer as a member of the board she has always been helpful to advise on any subject regarding club matters and her advice has always proven valuable on account of her varied experience in club work.

To the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee is due largely the success of the Fine Arts Exhibit. Your Executive Board has been a strong one and to the heads of the departments and the standing committees credit is due for the club's growth and progress.

My report would be incomplete did it not mention the public spirited and interested men in the community who aided us materially in carrying out our plans. What has been accomplished could never have been done had it not been for their interest and substantial support.

To Mr. Hugh MacRae is due our thanks for making possible the Civic work that has been done. But for the legal services of Robert Ruark, Esq., it would have been impossible to have purchased the property and paid for all the necessary work in connection with the transfer and the drawing up of the charter, issuing bonds, etc. We are also indebted to Herbert McClammy, Esq., for services in securing the loan when the property was bought and for examining the title which was done without thought of remuneration. We are deeply grateful to Mr. F. G. Cower, who generously offered the sixth floor of the Murchison National Bank building for the Fair and who assisted personally in many ways while it was in progress, and who also wrote several letters to Baltimore when we were trying to secure a loan. Again he has shown his interest in our work by allowing the use of the roof for a garden party.

Mr. Frank Mead, of the Tidewater Power Company, has given his helpful advice and aided in making the floral feature of the Fair an artistic triumph. We are also indebted to Col. Walker Taylor for concessions in the payment of the insurance on the building; to Mr. E. H. Munson for services in the box office at the performance of "Fi Fi", checking up accounts, assisting with the final settlement and for friendly advice throughout the year; to Mr. T. R. Ames, to Messrs. Hess and Van Ness, the nurserymen, who loaned their stock for decorations at our Fair; to Messrs. Solky and Howard for free advertising in the moving picture shows whenever asked, and to the staffs of The Evening Dispatch and The Morning Star for cordial co-operation always.

In all the club's activities, undertakings and accomplishments the greatest harmony has prevailed and the one thing which should be a matter of pride and satisfaction to the club as a whole. If there has been a disturbance it has not ruffled the surface.

Of course, there have been differences of opinion as there will always be, but they were settled amicably and pleasantly, the will of the majority ruling and the minority accepting graciously the results.

Your president retires with the kindest feeling for every member of Sorosis. She would be an ingrate if she did not express appreciation to every officer, chairman and member of the club for their loyalty and support during her term of office and above all for confidence which they from time to time have evidenced—for it has only been from a deep consciousness of the fact that her sister clubwomen were holding up her hands that made it possible at times for the strain to be endured and for this reason the office has been held as a sacred trust for which she was responsible to those who looked to her as leader to acquit herself creditably and to bring no reproach upon the club or its work in the community and which caused her to strive to measure up to the standard that the club could have for its president. The past two years have been years of gain in varied experience, years of pleasure in the companionship of workers of the club and a joy in the service that the club has rendered to the community.

the convention for the next year's meeting, Charlotte, High Point and Henderson. When the cities were placed in nomination, a spirited contest developed. The Henderson delegation, however, put up an eloquent plea for the convention, and by reason of the fact that it has never had the pleasure of entertaining the T. P. A.'s and also has the reputation of taking splendid care of conventions of every kind, whereas the other cities bidding have entertained the convention in the past, the majority of the delegates appeared to favor the claim of Henderson. When the balloting began, and it was seen that Henderson would be the choice of the convention, Charlotte and High Point gracefully withdrew their claims and cast their votes for Henderson, whereupon the choice was made by acclamation.

The resolution endorsing the stand of President Wilson in the present National crisis and assuring him of the unbounded confidence and support of the North Carolina Division of the T. P. A., unanimously adopted by the convention, is as follows:

"Whereas, questions of great moment confront our President and the American people, in their desire to preserve their neutrality and to do equal justice to all nations:

"Therefore, be it resolved by the North Carolina Division of the Travelers' Protective Association in convention assembled:

"That we, as a body representing the business men of the State of North Carolina, inspired by the patriotic spirit that should characterize the American citizens, hereby endorse the strong protest against the destruction of American lives and shipping, and the dignified policy of our President, Woodrow Wilson, in dealing with the great questions that confront our Nation in their hours of crisis, and that we do assure him of our unbounded confidence and undivided support.

"Resolved further, That the secretary of this Association be requested to furnish a copy of these resolutions to the press of the State, and to send a copy of same to the President."

In addition to the foregoing resolution, the convention adopted resolutions of thanks as follows:

"Resolved that the North Carolina Division of the T. P. A. collectively and individually most heartly concur in a vote of appreciation to our two Mayors, Mayor Parker Quince Moore, of Wilmington, and Mayor Thomas H. Wright, of the Beach, for their greetings, the freedom of their cities, the grace and earnestness of their wecoming us as guests, a welcome that has been realized that we feel as we depart that we are no longer guests, but citizens who from fields afar have come 'Down Home' for a rest.

"Resolved that the year 1914-1915 has been the record year for progress, for work, for doing good, by, in, and through the North Carolina Division of T. P. A. and that this convention testify to the individual 'and Posts' appreciation of the labors in our behalf of out-going administration; and that the whole official family be thanked, space, time and our overflowing gratitude alone preventing us from naming one and all of the family of T. P. A. boys, who have been good, done good, made good.

"Resolved, That the gratefulness of each one's heart be shown by a loud and hearty 'Aye,' in the adoption of the vote of thanks to the members of Post G.; that the North Carolina Division pardons its committee assigned to honor of expressing thanks to Post G, and its members for its inability to do more, but we would have to be three Hercules, would have to have Atlas supporting us, as in fabled lore he does the world, were we able to say more than we do thank you boys of Post G.

"Resolved, That the North Carolina Division of T. P. A. extend its sincere thanks to Manager J. E. Clayton, of the Oceanic Hotel and to his corps of assistants, from shoe shine to assistant manager, from fisherman to chef, for the comfort, care, the prompt service and delightful meals, for their unfailing attention and courtesy during our pleasant days with them.

"Resolved, That this convention of the North Carolina Division of T. P. A. reiterate, confirm and enlarge upon the thanks to and appreciation of the press of Old North State so pleasantly mentioned by our State Press Chairman in his annual report, and that we are glad to add the shining Star and the gladsome Dispatch to the honor roll for their latest courtesies in connection with our annual meeting."

The automobile ride over the city and county yesterday afternoon was a most enjoyable event. There were between 20 and 25 machines, with more than 75 people, in the party. The route included several of the city's best streets and out by Sunset Park, down the Federal Point road, around the loop and back up the turnpike, then around the Horse Shoe road and back into the city. The members of the T. P. A. are good roads enthusiasts and they were enthusiastic over New Hanover's fine system of improved roads.

The dance last evening, the closing feature of the convention, was also enjoyed by the delegates, as well as the large number of Wilmingtonians who went down. The Municipal Band furnished splendid music for the occasion; Lumina was most attractively decorated and the weather conditions were ideal.

The T. P. A. men are enthusiastic over the reception accorded them in Wilmington and at Wrightsville Beach; they declare that they have enjoyed every minute of their stay and will look forward to coming back some time.

Before the Recorder.

Prayer for judgment was continued for 12 months by Recorder Empie yesterday in cases against Katie Cumbert, Eula Gordon, Mary Everett and William Everett, all colored, charged with violating the prohibition law. They were required to pay the costs. Julius Marshall, colored, was required to pay a fine of $5 and the costs for assaulting a female. Vann Taylor, a white boy, charged with jumping on street cars, was discharged with a warning from the court to be more careful in the future.

TUESDAY IS "SCOTCH DAY" AT RED SPRINGS

Southern Presbyterian College Commencement.

Begins With Sermon by Rev. W. M. Fairley Today—Program Extends Through Wednesday—Scottish Society of America.

(By Miss Eloise McGill.)

Red Springs, N. C., May 15.—The 19th annual commencement of the Southern Presbyterian College will be held here May 16-19, and the program for the occasion is full of good things. Rev. Watson M. Fairley, of Fayetteville, will preach the baccalaureate sermon tomorrow.

Monday evening, the senior class, assisted by quite a number of the undergraduates, will present "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Tuesday, May 18th, is set aside as "Scotch Day", when the Scottish Society of America will hold its sixth annual meeting in the college auditorium. There will be addresses by eminent Scots of this and other states, and luncheon will be served to the members of the society. The special music which is being arranged will include a song the words and music of which are said to have been written by Flora MacDonald. The song is entitled "Hie to the Highlanders," and assures Prince Charles of the love and loyalty of his Scottish supporters. Also there will be some special numbers by Miss Katherine Campbell Johnson, whose lovely voice charms all her audiences.

We are expecting a great gathering of the clans, for this is their day, and the call to convene in annual assembly should be as effective and stirring as the weird voice of the pibroch and the display of the fiery cross on Ben Ledi's lofty height.

On the afternoon of the 18th from 4 to 6 o'clock there will be a reception and art exhibit in the departments of decorative and household arts, and in the evening a concert under the direction of Mrs. L. L. Vardell and the music faculty will be given.

Wednesday, May 19th, the literary address will be delivered by Col. J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, and diplomas and Bibles will be presented to the 12 graduates.

The college has had a good year. In spite of the depression of the war times, we have had about 200 boarding pupils and local patronage has also been good. Prospects are exceedingly bright for increased usefulness and even larger equipment in the near future than we have hoped for in our most sanguine dreams.

President C. G. Vardell and Dr. J. A. MacDonald, of Toronto, have met with most hearty interest and cordial enthusiasm on the part of the St. Andrews societies of Buffalo, Philadelphia and New York with regard to the proposed "Flora McDonald College." Dr. Vardell, on Monday, May 10th, addressed the "Ministers' League" of Toronto on the subject and plans are rapidly forming which point to an endowment worthy both of the lovely lady we propose to honor and the high educational ideals of the Scotch people.

Brother Scots: We offer to you the toast, "The Flora McDonald College!" Watch it grow into an institution of international renown! In the meantime, come to the meeting of the Scottish Society and learn more of the project.

MR. J. LLOYD M'KAY DEAD

Was Confederate Veteran and Prominent Citizen of Columbus.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., May 14.—Mr. J. Lloyd McKay, who was a brave soldier in the War Between the States, and who was twice wounded in battle, passed away yesterday and was today laid to rest in the family burying ground on his own beautiful plantation which is situated in Columbus county, on the road between Clarkton and Whiteville.

The funeral services were impressively conducted by Rev. R. A. Lapsley, Jr., pastor of Clarkton Presbyterian church, of which deceased had been a consistent member for a long time prior to his death. Rev. J. E. L. Winecoff, of Clarkton, assisted in the services, which were attended by a large concourse of loving friends, of the whole surrounding community, as well as a number from both Clarkton and Whiteville.

Deceased was 74 years old, a man of beautiful character, having won the name of "Peacemaker" among his wide circle of friends, making it one of the rules of his life never to speak evil of any one.

He was a very successful farmer and left several valuable plantations. Surviving him is his wife, who was Miss Lucy Brown, and seven children, Mrs. J. D. Carey, Mrs. Landrum and Miss Joana McKay, of Whiteville; Mrs. Pedro Sansrum, of Boardman; Mrs. T. L. Hutchison, Mrs. John Brown, of Clarkton, and Mr. J. J. McKay, of Bolivia, who is his only son.

TO ANSWER DR. M'KELWAY

Washington, D. C., May 15.—David Clark, of Charlotte, editor of the Southern Textile Bulletin, will be a witness before the Industrial Relations Commission next week. Mr. Clark will answer the charge of A. J. McKelway that child labor conditions in North Carolina cotton mills are intolerable.

Judge Walter Clark, father of the young editor, was a witness before the commission early this week.

Miss May B. Williams, of Oxford; Mrs. Dudley Bonits, of Chicago, and Mrs. W. H. Lassiter and children, of Oxford, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Martin on Capitol Hill.

Mrs. Parker Anderson and Master Heriton Anderson and Miss Fannie M. Fort left for Raleigh tonight to visit relatives.

Judge A. W. Graham, of Oxford, special United States attorney for cotton futures, with head-quarters in New York, conferred with Commissioner Osborn. P. R. A.

TELEPHONE OFFICIALS MAY BE INDICTED YET

Such the Intimation of Judge Carter, at Wilson.

Solicitor Allsbrook Means to Stop the Carolina From Furnishing Service to Disreputable Houses —Judge Backs Him.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., May 15.—Indictments against the officials of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company on the charge of aiding and abetting the keepers of houses in the red light district may result from the next sitting of the grand jury in this county if the suggestion made by Judge Frank Carter has weight.

The possibility was noted Friday when in hearing arguments in the case of the State against J. Y. Buchanon, found guilty of abandonment, Judge Carter stopped the examination and inquired who was manager of the local telephone exchange. Solicitor Allsbrook answered and further said that after the last session of the court he had personally called on Mr. C. E. McCluer, of Tarboro, the general manager of the company, and had advised him that an official communication would be sent to the board of directors of the company protesting against telephones being placed in disorderly houses. In reply Mr. McCluer had said that it would not be necessary to call on the board of directors but that as general manager, he would order the discontinuance of the service.

"Four months have passed," said Solicitor Allsbrook, "and I am informed that the service has not been discontinued but that the houses still have telephone service."

"I would suggest to the solicitor," said Judge Carter, "that he inform the officials of the company that the court intimated that it was his opinion that indictments against the company on a charge of aiding and abetting the keeping of disorderly houses would probably follow."

The solicitor said that he proposed to take the matter up and stop the practice of permitting such places to have telephone service.

In the case against Buchanon, who is a white man of some prominence, the jury had found a verdict of guilty and the evidence before the court charged that he had left his wife and home for a woman of bad character. Judge Carter sentenced him to the county jail to work the roads of Wilson county for 18 months. The sentence stunned the crowd and is the talk of the town. Attorneys John E. Woodard and F. S. Hassell represented Buchanon and gave notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

Attorneys representing Buchanon have proposed to Judge Carter that their client, convicted of abandonment and sentenced to the county roads for 18 months, will pay his wife, Mrs. Buchanon, $1,000 in lieu of the road sentence. It is expected that Judge Carter will agree to the proposition, in view of the fact that he suggested prior to passing sentence that he felt the wife deserved some settlement. The next step will be the application of Mrs. Buchanon for an absolute divorce on statutory grounds.

In five days the criminal docket of the Wilson county Superior court was finished—Judge Carter made a record with the people of this county and is much stronger here than before the beginning of the term.

DRUGS CAUSE INSANITY

Reduction Hoped for by Enforcing the New Laws.

(Seattle Post-Intelligencer.)

Recent statistics show that one out of every 500 people in the United States is afflicted with some form of insanity, and that, of the total number of insane, men greatly outnumber the women. Alienists tell us that this undue proportion of insane men is due to the excessive use of drugs, or liquor, and of these, drugs claim the larger share of victims.

If the theory of the alienists is based on fact, the figures for the current year should show a great decrease in the number of the insane. The Federal government has placed in effect strong restrictive measures in the sale of drugs, and the states are generally and gradually narrowing the activities of the open saloon.

By control of these abuses we are promised that the proportion of insane in America will fall to less than one-half of the present figures, certainly a consummation greatly to be desired. Under past conditions every State has been greatly taxed to care for them, and the hospitals, almost without exception, are crowded. Washington has not escaped this common condition, and its recently adopted liquor law and the effective control of drugs sales shoul dultimately give the alienists' theory of cause a fair field for exemplification.

Leakless Inner Tubes

Goodyear Laminated Tubes
Built Layer on Layer—Extra Thick

Here is something every motorist should know.

Goodyear Laminated Tubes are built of many thin layers—each of pure rubber—vulcanized together. No flaw can be hidden as in a thick piece of rubber. It is seen and eliminated. Every layer is perfect.

Such a Tube can't leak. And our valve patch can't leak, because it is part of the Tube and not stuck on.

Remember that. Many a tire trouble is due to leaky Tubes.

14% Heavier

Goodyear Laminated Tubes are extra heavy. They have always outworn any tire. But this year we have added 14 per cent to their average thickness—all pure rubber.

And our Tube prices this year are reduced 20 per cent. So these layer Tubes, extra-thick, now cost about the same as others.

Always Gray

Goodyear Laminated Tubes are not colored. They are gray—the natural pure rubber color. Color requires a large percentage of mineral adulteration. And minerals hold heat, a Tube's worst enemy.

Whatever tires you use, get Goodyear Tubes. They will outlast your tires, save you leaks and trouble. They will also convert you to Goodyear Fortified Tires, built by the same high standards.

Any dealer will supply you. (2376)

Warm Sulphur Springs
BATH COUNTY, VIRGINIA
This famous resort with the most delightful bath in America is now open for guests. Write for rates and information. Mrs. John L. Eubank, Warm Springs, Va.

WITH THE MAN IN THE STREET

A Reverie of Home—A porch, broad, low-roofed and deep set under the shade of wide-spreading oaks—half hid by the greenery of trellised vines.

Early summer, and the midday hour—and a half-breeze, laden with the rich, sweet breath of the roses, parting the foliage and wafting dream caresses to the occupant of the restful reclining chair. A pipe, half out and cooly fragrant; a forgotten magazine, lying open on the floor.

From the top of some nearby tree a mocking bird trills his repertoire, and the liquid notes float soft and sweet on the warm summer air. There is a low swift drone—a flash of gold and green and bronze hangs poised among the vines as a humming bird sips his mid-day meal from the heart of a morning glory bloom.

Away in the cool interior of the house, softly at first and then swelling in volume, a piano awakes to life. A deft sure touch, yet in entire sympathy with the mood of the hour, fondles the keys and the strains of the "Humoreske" throb low and soft and fill the air with all Dvorak's pure splendor of sound—linger and die away, leaving only the soul vision they inspire.

Eyes grow heavy—the world of realities slips softly away, and then comes—sleep.

Such is home and peace and—utter content.

He Knows the Truth—"He is over there now—searching out the truth."

This sentence is from an announcement in the current issue of The Fra, founded and made famous by Elbert Hubbard, one of those who perished with the ill-fated Lusitania. The announcement, written just about the time Hubbard sailed, was to the effect that the magazine had commissioned a famous man to visit the battlefields of Europe, and while Hubbard's name was not mentioned, of course it referred to him.

"He is over there now—searching out the truth," it read, and went on to promise first hand facts and information about the war.

And in the meantime the great liner, on the last lap of her voyage, was smashed by a German submarine, and with over 100 other Americans, Hubbard sank to his death.

"He is over there now—searching out the truth."

Ah, no! His search ended before it was begun.

But perhaps after all, somewhere out in the Unknown, Hubbard has found—the truth.

Then and Now—And, while we're on the subject, the following, from Hubbard's pen, just after the sinking of the Titanic, April 14, 1912, will be of interest:

"The Strauses, Stead, Astor, Butt, Harris, Thayer, Widener, Guggenheim, Hays—I thought I knew you, just because I had seen you, realized somewhat of your able qualities, looked into your eyes and pressed your hands, but I did not guess your greatness.

"You are now beyond the reach of praise—flattery touches you not—words for you are vain.

"Medals for heroism—how cheap the gilt, how paltry the pewter!

"You are beyond our praise or blame. We reach out, we do not find you. We call, but you do not hear.

"Guggenheim, Widener and Harris, you were unfortunate in life in having more money than we had. That is why we wrote things about you, and printed them in black and red. If you were sports, you were game to the last, cheerful losers, and all such are winners.

"As your souls play hide-and-seek with the sirens and dance with the naiads, you have lost interest in us. But our hearts are with you still. You showed us how death and danger put all on a parity. The women in the steerage were your sisters—the men your brothers; and on the tablets of love and memory we have 'graved your names.

"And so all you I knew, and all that thousand and half a thousand more. I did not know, passed out of this earth-life into the unknown upon the unforgetting tide. You were sacrificed to the greedy Goddess of Luxury and her consort, the Demon of Speed.

"Was it worth the while? Who shall say? The great lessons of life are learned only in blood and tears. Fate decreed that they should die for us.

"Happily, the world has passed forever from the time when it feels a sorrow for the dead. The dead are at rest, their work is ended, they have drunk of the waters of Lethe, and these are rocked in the cradle of the deep. We kiss our hands to them and cry, 'Hail and Farewell—until we meet again!'"

Flowers—How the heart of man blesses flowers! They wreathe with equal fitness the cradle, the marriage altar or the tomb. They grace any occasion, gladden any people. The Persian in the Far East delights in their perfume and writes his love-songs in their bouquets; the Indian child in the Far West laughs gleefully as he gathers the growing blossoms—the illuminated scripture of the prairie. To loved one, to friend—to foe they may be sent, bearing a message of affection, of cheer, of forgiveness. Man may make this gift to man, woman to woman, man to woman and woman to man, with aptness and delicacy, for flowers never mean—too much. They are God's rarest blessing to the sick; his priceless favor to the strong. The Cupid of the ancient Hindoo tipped his arrows with flowers and today the orange blossom is used by us, as a nation, to crown the maid who is bride-to-be. Flowers garlanded the Grecian altar and hung in votive wreaths before the Christian shrine. And all of these are appropriate uses. Flowers should adorn the brow of the sweet, young bride, for they are in themselves a lovely type of marriage; it is proper that they entwine the tomb, for their perpetually renewed life is a symbol of the resurrection; it is meet that they festoon the altar, for their beauty and fragrance ascend in worship to the realm of the Most High.

An Old-Fashioned Garden—Those who pass her home on their way to and from the work-world, where arduous and ofttimes irksome tasks await them, are under obligations to the Little Old Lady, for her garden of old-fashioned flowers. 'Tis a source of infinite pleasure to us, and we are sure each passer-by must experience the same joy and linger a moment to look on its beauty and breathe deeply of its fragrance. Here grow the flowers that the mothers and mothers' mothers cherished, so in this respect, at least, the Little Old Lady's garden is original, unique. Verbena, red, pink, white covers the earth in great bright patches; heliotrope offers sweetness from a mass of purple blooms. We find narcissus, pure and white, lilies, regal and red; tiny, timid violets nestling 'neath deep green leaves; mignonette; the sweet spicy pinks which have been replaced by carnations, save in gardens such as this; roses, tulips, forget-me-nots, and we are sure that he who seeks will also find here—heart's-ease. In gorgeous effect they blend color under the evening sun and in their midst, a smile on her face, is the Little Old Lady. It may be she is whispering a good-night to them for flowers are very human to those who understand. How she loves them! and why not? They are typical of beauty, innocence, purity—all that is good. There should be a garden in every yard—a garden of flowers, that we, in our leisure moments, might study it and become better acquainted with nature—with ourselves—with our God.

QUEER

A resident minister and a visiting minister stood at the corner of the street. "Do you see the tall young man across the street?" said the home minister, "he is the son of our old friend ....."

"Is he? Well, I am all interest in him. Very fine physique, and ....."'s son ought to be equally fine in character."

The home pastor was silent a moment, then said. "His membership is in my church here."

"I am glad to hear that, tell me of him."

"Why, he has decided talent, he had the best college advantages, and is already counted successful in his professional and business life."

"Good, very good, but—" and the visiting minister looked keenly at the other man, "how about the main question?"

The visiting minister was an older man and as he put this question, he challenged by tone and look and whole personality a plain answer. The pastor of the young man was silent, looking down with a troubled face. The older man went on.

"The main fact, you know, stands out as clearly as—the tower of the postoffice there. Or, doesn't stand out. How about ....."'s son? Is he a good worker in your church?"

The pastor under fire of question and gaze lifted his head and answered, "No, he certainly is not that."

"Well, what is his excuse?"

"Why, let me see, 'excuse'? Why, it is like this—I have been mindful to show him every kindness since he came to our city; I have seen to it that our people extended to him courtesy and hospitality; I have, as gently as I could, tried to persuade him to take part in Christian work; I and others, have striven by very tactful efforts to induce him to attend worship, to join a Bible class, and to lend a hand in the large work of my church which is so in need of helpers and—"

"That will do," broke in the old minister, his eyes were flashing, his head up, his whole being breathed indignation. This old man had always stood like a tall tower among his brethren of the ministry. He was a man who thought clearly and spoke directly, and was best known as one who would go through fire to bring back a wanderer or lift up a life.

"That will do," he said, fairly startling the gentle reserved man who stood before him. "And, after your gracious courtesy, and gentle urging, and tactful efforts, what? What is his response?"

"Why, well—why, it seems he doesn't specially enjoy any of the preachers in town. I understand he doesn't like my delivery, and he thinks Dr. So and So's sermons are too long, and the music isn't to his taste at ..... Street church, and so he doesn't attend public worship but rarely. He—"

The older man laid a hand on the pastor's shoulder. It was almost a shake of the pastor's shoulder. "That will do," and the old man's voice quivered, he not only refuses to do his honest part but finds fault with the entertainment and declines the invitation to be a guest in God's house. And where in the realm of reason and conscience does he get to look the world in the face?"

"Why, well, he has the foundations of character, integrity and virtue and-"

"Yes," the old man broke in, "certainly, certainly. He inherited the foundations of character from his stalwart, godly ancestry. These foundations are sustained by the prayers of those sweet old people in his home yonder. This young man could not help being fundamentally true. But, that mind you, is the very keen point of his responsibility for building strongly and beautifully on these foundations. Where his voluntary acts and habits begin is where his credit begins in heaven and among all thinking men."

"Yes," answered the home pastor, "that is true, you are right."

The old man continued, "There is some tremendous mistake somewhere in this young man's thinking. In fact, judging from his attitude toward Christian duty he appears not to have done any serious thinking at all, and besides the monster Egotism must have taken up residence in his heart and crowded out all nobler spirits. It is plain that he doesn't see any higher than himself. This is a very serious thing, when a young man assumes the right to criticise and pass judgment on every hand and decides according to what pleases his fancy, without regard to right or wrong, loyalty or disloyalty, duty or ease."

The old man paused for breath.

"The son of that splendid man and saintly woman being petted and persuaded and wearing out the patience of good men coaxing him to do his simple, ordinary duty, when he ought to be out in this sin-smitten world, week after week, spending his talents and strength, leading and winning into the kingdom man after man of those who have not had his chance, nor a hundredth part his chance."

The old man paused again, and the man before him was thinking how kindness and love of his fellow-men was written all over the old minister's face.

But the clear old eyes flashed as they looked across the street to the spot where the young man had stood a few minutes before and the old minister said. "And to be utterly blind to the utter unfairness of it. Isn't it queer?"

"Yes," answered the quiet, tired patient pastor, "it is queer."

EVENTS OF A WEEK IN AND ABOUT LUMBERTON

Town Votes Against Sale of Electric Light Plant.

Heaviest Rains of the Season—Street Improvement—Masonic Annual Banquet—"White Way" Completed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., May 15.—The heaviest rains of the season fell in this section Tuesday night and Wednesday and as a result all streams were greatly swollen and farm work temporarily suspended. In the lower part of the county the rainfall was reported unusually heavy, the R. & C. railroad track in some places being covered where water had never been known to stand before. However, no damage other than the interrupted work has been reported.

The two weeks' term of Superior court which convened Monday has been disposing of a good deal of work during the week, but it is expected that the full time will be taken up before the court adjourns. The next court will be a criminal term in July.

The indications now are that a good many people from this section will attend the Confederate Veterans Reunion in Richmond June 2. The railroad fare from here will be $5.65 for the round trip, tickets on sale May 29 to June 2, inclusive, good returning until June 10.

The Seaboard will give a round trip rate of $3.85 to Charlotte May 20, on account of the celebration of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. Lumberton is generally well represented in Charlotte on these occasions, and it is supposed the usual number will attend this year.

Dr. W. A. McPhaul has leased the bank building on the corner of Fourth and Elm streets formerly occupied by the Bank of Lumberton. The fixtures have been removed as well as the brick vault. Dr. McPhaul will not intimate who will occupy the building or what kind of business will be carried on there.

A force of laborers have been engaged for the last several days improving the streets. The work was badly needed as, on account of the great amount of rain which fell during the winter and spring, ditches and gutters were badly filled up.

Messrs. Robbins and Worley, two experienced laundrymen, have purchased the Sanitary Laundry, which has been idle for some time, and will begin operations Monday. The machinery has been thoroughly overhauled and put in first-class condition.

The Lumberton Masonic lodge gave its annual banquet Tuesday night, and that it was the greatest even of the kind ever pulled off in Lumberton there is no doubt. Many visitors were in attendance, more than 100 all together being present. A special train brought a large delegation from St. Pauls, returning after the meeting. The occasion was a grand success in every way.

A party of two young men and eight school boys, ranging in age from 10 to 15, from Dr. Henderson's Mainefeld school, at Samarcand, N. C., near Pinehurst, arrived here last night after spending four days on a pleasure trip floating down Lumber river. The party was composed of Northerners, and one of the jolliest crowds that has come this way. The party left on the early Seaboard train this morning on the return trip.

Another old landmark is passing from the Seaboard. Mr. H. T. Rollins, who has been in the postal service between Wilmington and Rutherfordton more than 35 years, has been made transfer clerk at Hamlet. Holding the position so long is sufficient evidence of competency and popularity. Mr. Rollins is still on his run between Wilmington and Charlotte, but is expecting to be transferred any day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McAllister left Thursday for Hendersonville, where Mrs. McAllister will spend some time on account of ill health. Mr. McAllister will return home first of the week.

Mrs. T. W. Bullock went to Sanford yesterday to enter a hospital at that place for treatment.

Dr. R. S. Beam will leave tomorrow night for Philadelphia, where he will spend several weeks attending lectures on diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat.

Chief Redfern has given his last notice for all kinds of unpaid taxes due the town for last year.

The election held Tuesday to decide whether or not the town would sell its electric light plant was a one-sided affair, 183 voting against the proposition while 38 voted for it. The Yadkin Power Company offered $15,000 for the plant and wanted a 60-year franchise, but the people didn't take kindly to the proposition.

Rev. J. H. Hall, presiding elder of the Rockingham district, will preach at the Methodist church tomorrow night. At the close of service quarterly meeting will be held.

Mrs. Nellie Parmele and children and two sisters, Misses Emma and Laura Norment, and aunt, Miss Mittie Harriss, left this week for Montreat, N. C., where they will spend the summer.

Mr. C. M. Fuller and family will spend the summer at Hendersonville.

Mrs. A. C. Tebeau, of Hendersonville, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Whaley.

A district meeting of the Knights of Pythias was held here with Lumberton lodge, No. 35, Thursday night. Among the out-of-town visitors was Mr. W. W. Willson, of Raleigh, State deputy grand chancellor.

The "white way" has been completed on South Elm street to the union passenger station, and the lights were turned on tonight for the first time. The improvement is so great that it is hard to realize what has happened.

DANIEL GRANTHAM, JR., DEAD

Well Known Young Man of Mount Olive Passes Away.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., May 15.—Daniel Grantham, Jr., a well known young man of this place, died at his home here last night at 11 o'clock, following an extended period of ill health, during the last few weeks of which his condition was such that his death was expected at almost any time.

Deceased is survived by his father, Daniel Grantham, Sr., his mother and several brothers and sisters.

The remains will be interred in the family burying ground, near Grantham's store, this county, tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon.

WAYNE FARMER A SUICIDE

Dempsey Parks Drinks Concoction Prepared for Spraying Cattle. Health Feeble.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mt. Olive, N. C., May 15.—Dempsey Parks, a prominent Wayne county farmer living about seven miles east of here, committed suicide Friday by drinking a solution which his son, Mack Parks, had prepared to spray cattle to rid them of ticks.

According to the report reaching here, Mr. Parks left his home about 7 o'clock, saying he was going off to a nearby swamp. Instead, however, he went to the home of his son, going up to the house from a back way. Coming upon this mixture out in the yard, Mr. Parks seized the jug containing it and began drinking its contents. A negro nearby saw what Mr. Parks was doing and hastened to Mr. Parks and succeeded in keeping him from drinking any more, but too late, as he had already drunk enough to do the work, death ensuing about noon.

Mr. Parks was about 65 or 70 years of age and had been in very feeble health for several years past, and has on some two or three former occasions attempted self-destruction. Only Thursday, the day before, it was said he had drunk a quantity of machine oil in an attempt at self-destruction.

Only a granddaughter was residing with Mr. Parks at the time of his death. Surviving him, however, are several children, quite a number of grandchildren and other relatives. The remains were interred today.

4TH CANDIDATE IN SIXTH?

Hon. Q. K. Nimocks, of Fayetteville, May Enter Race for Congress —Has "Feelers" Out.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., May 15.—In all probability Congressman Godwin will have three opponents in his race for re-election from the Sixth district. Two of these, it is said, will be Wilmington men and Hon. Q. K. Nimocks, of this city, today strongly intimated his intention of being a candidate. While not actually announcing his candidacy, Mr. Nimocks frankly stated that he would enter the race if sufficiently encouraged to do so by his friends in the district. In answer to an inquiry along this line, Mr. Nimocks said:

"Yes, I am considering the matter of entering the race for Congress in the approaching campaign and am taking up the question of my candidacy with the Democratic voters of the district and am asking them to let me know their views on the subject as soon as practicable. If they encourage me to run, I will feel justified in doing so, fully recognizing the right of the people to indicate their choice.

"It will be some time yet before public sentiment is sufficiently crystalized on the subject to reach an intelligent decision; but I am receiving much encouragement throughout the district, and will decide the question of my candidacy in good time."

Mr. Nimocks studied law at the University of North Carolina and has been practicing in Fayetteville since his graduation. He is a man about 45 years of age, enjoys a large law practice and is very popular in this district. Mr. Nimocks has served with distinction two terms in the State Senate and his experience thus gained (as he was always to be found at his post in the Senate, watching closely all legislation, will prove a valuable asset to him in the National Congress.

Friends of Mr. John A. Oates, formerly judge of the county Recorder's court, are urging him to enter the race for the nomination for lieutenant governor. He has made no announcement.

Sunday, May 16—Topic, "Why I Believe in Christian Endeavor." 2 Tim. 1:1-14.

(Union meeting with the Juniors.)

In this Scripture passage Paul is exhorting the young minister Timothy with regard to his work and pressing on him the duty of guarding that which has been committed unto him, and not to be ashamed of the Gospel of Christ.

This exhortation applies to Christian Endeavor. Christian Endeavor is an effort to make Christianity more vital to young people's lives. It is easy enough to find reason for believing in Christian Endeavor.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because it begins at the right time, and proceeds in the right way. It starts with the children, fixes the habits, and brings them in touch with the church which establishes them in the theory and practice of Christianity.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because it has made good. It is no longer an experiment. Its usefulness is established. It nas proven its worth in every land and in all conditions. It has not been found wanting. It has been a blessing.

We believe in it because of its covenant. There is sometimes some objections to the Christian Endeavor pledge, but there is nothing in the pledge that is not an obligation upon the Christian. The pledge of the Endeavorers, which is for active work, Bible study, and prayer, is the heart and soul not only of the Christian Endeavor but of Christianity. It stands upon the principles of the highest Christian service; it attempts to carry out practical Christianity.

We believe in Christianity because of its motive. This motive is to do the will of Christ. Christ is the Head of the Church, and His purposes are the motives of the Church and Christian Endeavor attempts to realize His purposes. There seems to be a tendency in some places on the part of religion towards ethical ideals rather than the personal touch of Christ, and if there is one thing above all others for which Christian Endeavor stands, it is for close contact with the living Christ.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because of its fellowship. We are inclined in this busy age of the world to neglect fellowship in our spiritual life. We are made strong through fellowship. Christian Endeavor is meeting the need of it, by linking young people together. It is strengthening them in the common purpose and uniting them in their work.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because of its training. The young people of the Church today will be the leaders of the Church tomorrow. If we are to have capable leaders tomorrow we must have trained young people today. The Christian Endeavor has been called the gymnasium of the Church. Its work is the work of preparation for service, and its value as a training station to the Church cannot be overestimated. It is the testimony of those who have experience in its work that the training of the Christian Endeavor is the most valuable asset in their education for Christian work.

Christian Endeavor is a stairway, holding all who will get on, and leading them up if they will climb; but it is not a moving stairway.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because it unites the young people of all the churches and denominations, and gives them a vision of the united church.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because it believes in the young people.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because it has an aim—an object for its existence. Its founder has said its mission is to be a training school for Christian service.

We believe in Christian Endeavor for we believe in system and efficiency. Chaos never accomplished anything. Lost motion is a waste that should be eliminated.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because of its products. Practically all of the men and women of today who are accomplishing really big things say they received their training through the young people's organization, Christian Endeavor not only trains for service, but consecrates for that service.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because of its motto, "For Christ and the Church." It puts first things first; it puts nothing before Christ.

The Christian Endeavor pledge has been the means of thousands and thousands of young people making it the rule of their lives to read the Bible and pray every day.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because it promotes church attendance. Old people seldom commence attendance at church. Habits of youth are never overcome. The foreigner will go back to his native tongue before he dies. We can b led back to the habits of our youth, but are slow to fix new ones. So Christian Endeavor is the church working in a systematic, efficient manner for its own existence and for the glory of God.

We believe in Christian Endeavor because it stands for all that is good and necessary for training and developing of a well-rounded Christian character.

Things to Think About.

How does Christian Endeavor build up its members? How does Christian Endeavor strengthen the church? How may we get others to believe in Christian Endeavor?

An electric light is now made small enough to be attached to the ordinary dry battery cell. It will give a strong beam of light for several hours.

COTTON MARKET ADVANCES

Close Higher, Though Sharp Early Advance is Followed by Moderate Reactions.

New York, May 15.—A sharp early advance in the cotton market was followed by moderate reactions during today's trading, but the close was steady and from 7 to 11 points net higher.

A more optimistic view of the political situation seemed to be chiefly responsible for the firmer tone of the early market. Relatively steady cables and reports from the dry goods trade continued to the advance. However, fresh buying was restricted by the favorable weather news, and as soon as the demand tapered off, prices turned easier under scattered realizing. After the heavy liquidation of the past week, offerings were by no means heavy or general, but there was a little more cotton for sale at the close and last prices showed reactions of 6 to 7 points from the best. Manchester cables said there had been no improvement in the goods trade, but that a better demand was expected from China as a result of the settlement with Japan.

Cotton closed steady.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Better Sentiment Prevails in Market Than on Friday.

New Orleans, May 15.—A better sentiment prevailed in the cotton market today than yesterday and prices at their best were 11 to 12 points over yesterday's close. Many traders believed the market oversold. Moderate buying served to put prices up, but late in the session the good weather over the belt attracted attention and values fell off somewhat. The net close was at a net gain of 7 to 12 points.

The large mill takings for the week attracted favorable comment but led to little fresh long buying as nearly all brokers advised caution on the long side until the political situation was more settled.

Cotton futures closing: May 8.85; July 9.15; October 9.45; December 9.62; January 9.72.

Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; middling 9.00; sales on the spot 1,105 bales; to arrive 51.

SELLING PRESSURE IN WHEAT

Suggestions From Government Sources That Hessian Fly Damage Not Great, is the Cause.

Chicago, May 15. — Suggestions from government sources at Washington implying that Hessian fly damage did not as yet justify the general plowing up of injured fields, resulted today in much selling pressure on wheat. The effect, however, was partly overcome by week end evening trades. Closing prices were unsettled at one cent decline to ⅝c. advance, compared with last night. Corn finished ¼@⅜c, oats finished c. off and provisions wound up unchanged to 15 points higher.

RALLY IN STOCK MARKET

Improvement Noted at Outset and Further Progress Made in First Hour of Trading.

New York, May 15.—Stocks rallied more or less spiritedly today from their weakness of the preceding session, when quoted values crumbled mainly from apprehension engendered by increasing tension in international affairs. Improvement was manifest at the outset and further progress was made during the first hour, the range of gains extending from 2 to 4 points.

War specialties were most variable, recovering a material part of yesterday's losses but yielding to 64 again toward the end of today's short session. The most reassuring feature of today's movement was its moderation, trading at no time getting out of hand or evidencing any of the feverishness which marked recent recoveries. Conditions in the steel industry thus far have been unaffected by the international situation and other trade reports point to steady improvement particularly in the west and southwest.

Bonds moved forward with stocks, but trading in that quarter was far below recent averages. Sales $878,100.

WEEKLY DRY GOODS REVIEW.

Considerable Hesitancy Has Developed in Primary Cotton Markets.

New York, May 15.—Considerable hesitancy in trading developed in primary cotton goods markets due to political uncertainties and to the decline in cotton. Mill agents and manufacturers are offering very few goods and are content to await developments while filling the substantial contracts in hand. Secondary and retail markets have manifested by little halting and the movement of merchandise is steady and larger than a year ago. Fine bleached cottons are well sold. Managers of finishing companies and colored goods mills are again expressing grave anxiety about the dyestuffs outlook. The export trade in cotton duck continues large. Wash goods and white goods continue active and fine cloths are being ordered in fancy weaves for the new spring season. A substantial business has been done in 40-inch sheetings and Osnaburgs for bagging purposes to replace burlaps. Ginghams are being offered the manufacturing trades for next spring. The demand for hosieries and underwear for immediate use is better and fall shipments are coming in freely.

Prices in several instances are nominal, quotations being as follows: Print cloths 28-inch 64x64s 3 1-4c; 64x60s, 3 1-8c; 38 1-2-inch 64x64s, 4 1-4c; brown sheetings Southern standards 6 1-2c; denims, 9-oz., 13c; tickings 8-ounce, 11c; prints 5c; staple ginghams 6 1-4c; dress ginghams 9 1-4c.

VERY IMPORTANT DECISION IS FILED

Concerning Railroad-Owned Steamship Lines on Lakes

CANNOT RETAIN THEM

Interstate Commerce Commission in Decision Rendered Yesterday Says That Roads Must Give Up Lake Lines by Dec. 1.

Washington, May 15.—In one of the most far reaching decisions of recent years the Interstate Commerce Commission today decided that the railroads owning and operating steamship lines on the Great Lakes must give them up after December 1.

The principal Eastern trunk lines which carry the great volume of freight traffic between the Atlantic seaboard and the West are affected and the decision may alter partial trade routes over which are moved millions of tons of the West's rich stores of raw materials to the East and millions of tons of manufactured products to the West and Northwest.

In effect the decision establishes a water route, independent of railroad control from New York to points on Lake Superior and Lake Michigan.

The commission points out that the Great Lakes, for many years dominated by the railroad owned fleets, again will be open to independent shipping and that the Erie canal again has the opportunity of becoming a main artery of traffic.

Under the Panama Canal Law railroad ownership of competing water lines is forbidden unless the Interstate Commerce Commission holds that public convenience and necessity are served thereby. The commission finds to the contrary that: "The interests of the shipping public will be conserved and those of the boat lines will be bettered * * * by the divorcement."

Under the law the Pennsylvania, Northern Central, Lehigh Valley, New York Central, Rutland, Erie, Grand Trunk and Lackawanna railroads petitioned the commission to retain their fleets which are operated by separately incorporated transit companies.

The land lines of the railroads skirting the shores of the lakes serve competing territory and freight rates called "Lake and rail" rates are fixed for the combination rail and water journel. This, the commission held, has stifled competition and that the boat lines first used as a "sword" by the railroads to drive independent ships off the lake are now held as a "shield" against possible competition of new independents.

by the American note to arbitration was received with much interest and it was indicated that if there was a suspension of submarine warfare on merchant ships while the discussion was in progress, the plan might be given serious consideration.

Arbitration also had been talked of here before today's press dispatches arrived.

Some German officials had intimated that although without advices from Berlin, they were confident from previous knowledge of the desire of the German government to remain friendly with the United States that arbitration would be welcomed. The difficulty of constituting a court of arbitration at this time when most of the great powers whose participation might be desired are at war was pointed out by some diplomatists, however, as making the plan impracticable.

That some way would be found to reach an amicable settlement between the United States and Germany was the growing conviction of many officials and diplomatists today. A variety of suggestions were heard.

Another Plan Suggested.

One which was given serious thought was a proposal to refuse clearance to belligerent ships carrying munitions of war or absolute contraband when they also carried passengers. This would involve no embargo but separation of passenger and contraband traffic.

The United States stands firmly on the legal right of its citizens to travel on any ships and believes its position is indisputable.

Germany, however, holds that this has become a debatable question on account of changed conditions, and if the two classes of ocean-going traffic were separated, submarines would direct their attention to contraband ships alone.

The objection to this, however, in the opinion of some officials is that the plan still would not provide for the humane treatment which international law prescribes for the crew of a vessel carrying contraband and making no resistance to visit and search or any attempt to run a blockade. To torpedo without warning or even to give time for the crew of a vessel carrying contraband to get into small boats, it was pointed out, would leave them to the mercy of the high seas unless a big boat happened to be nearby. This is the position taken in the American note and some officials doubted whether there would be any conclusions on this point for it invokes the principle of humanity for which the United States has taken so vigorous a stand.

Another suggestion discussed by officials was the possible announcement by the Allies that none of their merchant ships would be armed hereafter. Merchant ships of any nationality, according to a ruling from the State Department early in the war have the right to carry guns "not larger than six inch calibre for defensive purposes only," but by an informal arrangement with the British government clearance has been refused British ships at American ports until they disposed of their guns.

Out of these phases of the question there was belief in diplomatic quarters here, that some solution of the questions involved eventually would be reached without any repetition of such a disaster as befell the Lusitania.

Norfolk, Va., May 15.—The Mayflower with President Wilson on board, left Hampton Roads at 10 o'clock tonight for New York.

It is reported that Joac Chages, former premier and minister of the interior, will be the new premier and also minister of the interior.

The Madrid correspondent of the Fabre agency says that the Spanish government on Saturday received from the governor of Badajoz, Spain, near the Portuguese frontier the following statement concerning the revolt:

"The rebellion broke out at Lisbon aboard the cruiser Adamastorm which at 3:30 o'clock bombarded the city. A band of 200 civilians stormed the Alcantara barracks. They entered the barracks cheering the republic. Many were killed and wounded.

"The whole Republican guard is loyal to the government and has occupied the streets, squares and strategic points, scattering the crowds. Several bombs have been exploded.

"The battleship Vasco Da Gama has left Lisbon on a secret government mission. All railway and telegraphic communication around the capital has been interrupted. The Elba garrison remains faithful and has sent troops to Lisbon. At Santarem an artillery regiment bombarded the 24th infantry whose losses are unknown. Civilians set fire to a British cork factory at Portalegre. There also has been an outbreak at Oporto, where several people were wounded."

A student of Des Moines has made a tiny electric motor which is hardly half as large as a copper cent. It is a little over a quarter of an inch high and weighs 20 grains. It is thought to be the smallest electric motor in the world.

Town clocks are being illuminated nights by electric lamps.
